EDEN RESTS AT NEWPORT; CHURCHILL ENTERTAINS

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden and his wife settled on a private estate facing Newport Harbor today hopeful of a quiet convalescence from his recent operation.

The 56-year-old British diplomat, appearing much healthier than on his arrival from England three and a half weeks ago, left the New England Baptist hospital in Boston Monday. He underwent an operation June 10 to clear a bile duct obstruction.

Dr. Richard Cattell, the diplomat's surgeon, said in a bulletin "we are convinced that after a full period of convalescence a complete recovery can be assured."

Meanwhile, London reported that Prime Minister Churchill, 78, resting on doctor's orders from the strain of overwork, was host at a small luncheon party again today at his estate at Chartwell, Kent.

Almost every day since last week-end, when he finally bowed to medical advice to take a month's rest, he has entertained at lunch or dinner. (See "Big Three Envoys," page 2.)

Germans Turn Against Reds

Communists Promise Speedy Trial,
Severe Punishment for Captives

By JOSEPH FLEMING

BERLIN (UP)—Flames in the coalfields and screaming women in the cities of Red Germany signaled a new upsurge of anti-Communist rebellion today in defiance of Russian bayonets and Communist promises.

The Communist drag-net hauled in thousands of Germans, increasing total arrests in the two-week revolt to more than 50,000, and the Reds promised "speedy trial" and severe punishment of their captives.

The West Berlin newspaper Nacht Depesche reported that widespread uprisings exploded in the German area east of the Oder and Neisse Rivers, now held by Poland, on June 17 and that unrest continued.

Nacht Depesche said workers clashed with Polish and Soviet troops in at least six cities.

REVOLT CALL BUDAPEST CLAIM

LONDON (AP)—Budapest radio said a foreign plane—not identified—flew over Hungary today dropping leaflets calling upon the people to revolt.

The Communist broadcast said the "appeal was in stupid and coarse language." "Only the enemies of our independence and of our country could provoke such a disgusting affair," the radio said.

120-Mile Typhoon New Japan Threat

Kyushu Island Counts 2,000 Casualties
As Plans Made to Fight Fresh Storms

TOKYO (UP)—A 120-mile-an-hour typhoon churned across the south Pacific toward Japan today, bringing the threat of new storm and flood damage to battered Kyushu Island, where torrential rains over the week-end caused more than 2,000 casualties.

Latest tabulations place the number of flood victims at 2,134—473 dead, 974 injured and 687 missing. More than 1,000,000 Japanese were driven from their homes.

No American casualties were reported, but late reports said the United States Tomino ammunition depot, near Kokura, was "seriously damaged" by the floods. Servicemen's families have been evacuated from the area.

The sun broke through the clouds over Kyushu Monday for the first time in five days, and U.S. servicemen helped clear away damage and batten down against the threat of new storms.

Lieut. Gen. Paul W. Kendall, deputy U.S. army commander in the Far East, flew from Tokyo to take charge of disaster relief operations, and American army units were directed to do everything they can for flood sufferers.

South Korean Envoy Invites U.S. to Withdraw From War

Truce Talks Said
'Doubly' Deadlocked

By ERNEST HOBRECHT

SEOUL, Korea (Wednesday UP)—South Korean leaders turned against President Eisenhower's special trouble-shooting envoy today and one of them invited the United States to pull its troops out of Korea if it wanted to.

The truce talks were doubly deadlocked. The Communists indicated clearly they would not accept Gen. Mark W. Clark's call for an armistice with or without the support of South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

It was made clear also that the talks between Rhee and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, the trouble-shooter Mr. Eisenhower sent here to induce Rhee to accept the armistice, had bogged down.

There were open hints in high Korean quarters that Robertson lacked authority.

"Too many things are being referred back to Washington," one official said.

South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tae said in an exclusive interview with this correspondent:

"Some persons believe the

which makes up two-thirds of the United Nations' battline, was reported ready to join the defense minister in resigning.

Many observers who considered Shin completely loyal to the stubborn Rhee voiced surprise at the defense minister's sudden resignation.

South Korean and United Nations sources said he probably quit because he could not agree with Rhee on the ability of the ROK army to keep fighting after an armistice.

Paik, reported in disfavor with Rhee, also has opposed some of the president's actions to block a truce.

Radio Pyongyang, the voice of North Korea, said Clark's offer to sign an armistice without strong assurances of South Korean participation showed "no sincere desire for an armistice."

The Pyongyang broadcast was not considered an official rejection of Clark's note delivered to the Communists at Pannunjom, but it was considered a reflection of the Communist attitude.

Gen. Sun Yip Paik, chief of staff of the South Korean army

It was believed Shin, one of the most conscientious South Korean officials, decided to quit when he realized he could not continue to exert his full abilities for a government whose policies he opposes.

When Hansen asked him whether those differences in opinion still existed, he replied: "You'd better say that."

The government refused to confirm reports that home minister Chin Hun Shik's job also was in jeopardy.

Gen. Sun Yip Paik, chief of staff of the South Korean army

He denied there was a rift between himself and Rhee, even though he has been lukewarm in supporting the 78-year-old president's truce-wrecking policies.

Leroy Hansen, United Press correspondent covering truce talks at Pannunjom, told Shin some allied newsmen were speculating his resignation was brought on by differences with Rhee.

"I suppose some friendly foreigners know there must be some reason," Shin replied.

Vote-Counting Resumes in B.C.'s Election

WIRE BRIEFS

1 Dead, 2 Injured In Plane Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One man was killed and two escaped with minor injuries in the crash of a Western Air Lines DC-3 transport plane as it was taking off for a test flight at Los Angeles International airport Monday.

Joseph Stromsky, 24, Inglewood, Calif., an inspector, was burned to death. Airline officials said the plane had been overhauled and was being taken aloft for a check-up.

Bread Hike Inquiry

VANCOUVER (BUP)—City Council has decided to make a thorough investigation into a one-cent jump in the price of bread, to 15 cents.

Manitoba Jurist Dead

DAUPHIN, Man. (CP)—Jaroslav William Arsenych, 69, first Canadian of Ukrainian origin to be appointed to the bench, died Monday in Dauphin after a brief illness.

Suspects Cleared

VANCOUVER (CP)—Burnaby RCMP today reported that four motorists they interviewed in connection with the Loughheed Highway hijacking Thursday of a truck loaded with produce from the strike-bound Slade & Stewart warehouse have been cleared of suspicion.

Contract Awarded

VANCOUVER (CP)—Contract for construction of a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's television transmitter building at 2,700-foot level on Mount Seymour has been awarded to Bennett & White Construction Company, it was announced today.

Saskatchewan's Own Bus Company Tied Up By Strike

REGINA (CP)—Operations of the province's biggest highway bus company were halted today when some 220 employees of the government-owned Saskatchewan Transportation Company went out on strike at 6 a.m.

The employees, members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America (AFL-TLC), took the action after negotiations between their union officials and the company, headed by Highways Minister J. H. Douglas, broke down Saturday.

Pickets took over at bus depots throughout the province, from the United States border north to Lac la Ronge, 150 miles north of Prince Albert.

The STC operates buses on designated routes in Saskatchewan. It does not provide bus service in cities or towns, whose own transit facilities are unaffected.

Vote Counting Resumes in B.C.

Gunderson, Gibbs Continue Fight
In Oak Bay, 100-Vote Difference

Social Credit Finance Minister Einar Gunderson and Liberal Reeve P. A. Gibbs continued to stage a neck-and-neck battle in Oak Bay today as counting resumed in B.C.'s marathon election.

Counting of absentee votes this morning showed Mr. Gunderson received 77 votes and Reeve Gibbs 76.

The Soered is now 100 votes ahead of the Liberal, instead of the 99 he led by on election night.

Here are the new totals: Mr. Gunderson 3,280; Mr. Gibbs 3,180; PC Deane Finlayson 1,224, and CCF Fred Bevis 509.

The important second count started at 1 p.m. with CCF second choices being distributed among the remaining candidates.

Counting of ballots got under way again in B.C.'s 41 ridings (48 seats) at 9 a.m. today after a three-week "waiting it out" period for politicians and voters. The wait is required under the alternative voting law to allow time for absentee ballots to return to their home ridings.

Up to press time, there had been no appreciable change in the election picture.

BEST CHANCE

Premier W. A. C. Bennett's Social Credit party still appeared to have the best chance of forming a majority government.

The only second count completed was in Alberni, and it still left the result indecisive in the West Coast riding.

LPP candidate Frank Botmer was dropped from the contest, and his voters' second choices went mostly to the CCF. CCF-er John Squire picked up 53 of them, Liberal Mayor Loran K. Jordan 14, Soered Thor Peterson 9, and PC Oliver Rutan 7. Total of 52 were exhausted.

New totals: CCF-er John Squire, 3,178; Liberal Jordan, 2,038; Soered Peterson, 1,646, and PC Rutan, 328.

Only other results came from Burnaby where veteran Socialist E. E. Winch is increasing his lead over his nearest rival, Soered Ernest Crampton. He fell just short of a first count victory election night.

Election officials indicated it will be a week before final results are known, but they expect a definite trend to be established tonight or Wednesday.

In last June's long count, the first time B.C. used the alternative voting system, it took 28 days before the final result was known in all ridings.

But it was 50 days before the new government was sworn into office. The extra delay was caused by legal battles over recounts in Vancouver ridings.

ON TEAM

Victoria Returning Officer Alan B. Macfarlane swung his 28-man counting team into action at 8:30 a.m., half an hour

NO TIMES ON DOMINION DAY

The Victoria Daily Times will observe Dominion Day as a holiday.

Next regular editions will appear Thursday afternoon.

Laniel Wins First Test In Assembly

PARIS (UP)—New Premier Joseph Laniel won an overwhelming vote of confidence in the National Assembly today for his 22-man right-of-centre cabinet.

He started to work at once on the most urgent of his many problems—the national finances and preparations for a Big Three foreign ministers meeting in Washington.

On Friday he will face the first controversial debate in the assembly, involving the black market currency scandal in Indochina.

Next Tuesday debate will be opened on the financial situation.

Laniel won the vote of confidence for his cabinet when deputies demanded immediate debate on several issues. Laniel objected, and the vote supporting him constituted a vote of confidence in his new cabinet.

SECONDS LEAD

Premier Bennett's party leads the pack with three members elected on the first count, and a fourth a certainty, and 26 leading.

The CCF has elected two and leads in 15. Labor leads in one.

The Liberals and Progressive Conservatives are trailing. None has been elected, and none is leading.

Second Test Cricket Match Ends in Draw

LONDON (Reuters)—England today drew with Australia in the second test match. Final scores were Australia, 346 and 368; England, 372 and 282 for seven.

ENGLAND REMEMBERS YOUNG U.S. HERO

Town Turns Out for Wedding

HUNSTANTON, Eng. (AP)—This Norfolk seaside resort had its own wedding-of-the-year today, and it took the bridal couple, young Americans, to its heart.

The bridegroom was Reis Leming, U.S. Air Force corporal of Toppensish, Wash., 22-year-old hero of the flood which devastated this community last February. The bride was Mary Joan Ramsay, 21.

On the night of the flood Leming, stationed at the nearby U.S. air base at Sculthorpe, plunged into the swirling water pushing a rubber boat. In three perilous expeditions he saved the lives of 27 persons, mostly women and children. Afterwards he collapsed.

The Queen recognized the young airman's gallantry by awarding him the George Medal.

Then Hunstanton heard about the girl Leming had left in Washington, and everyone from the mayor down to the humblest of the 4,500 townspeople insisted that their marriage had to take place here.

All the way from Washington Mary Joan, travelling with her mother, brought the wedding gown of white chintilly lace.

She wore a coronet of orange blossoms over her nut brown hair.

The wedding at the little Roman Catholic Church was a good-natured mob scene.

The mayor and other government officials were there. So were many American soldiers, and some of the persons whose lives had been saved by the corporal.

Only a fraction of the persons who wanted to attend could get into the church, so they hung around outside. The town gave Leming and his bride a set of Doulton china, and the women pooled their skill to bake a three-tiered cake of heroic proportions.

The hilltop church is about a mile from the spot where Leming—who can't swim a stroke—rescued the flood victims.

Mister Scott is like the other Scot who wuz allowed 't bring his bagpipes into church, but "one toot an' yer oot."

Th' Germans seem 't be doin' their second count too, but th' hard way.

Thet Kiwanis Village is a fine place fer ol' folks, as Mister Drew sez—but it ain't no better than th' Senate.

Ministers of France, Britain, U.S. to Confer in Washington

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles said today the French government has approved holding a Big Three foreign ministers' conference here about July 10.

It was disclosed Monday that Britain had suggested such a conference.

Dulles told a press conference one of the main reasons for a three-power meeting would be to draft a united western position toward Germany.

Dulles also called attention to "extensive unrest" within Russia's European satellites. He indicated the East German riots and satellite problems generally would be discussed.

Dulles said the new French government headed by Joseph Laniel indicated in a cable received a few minutes before the press conference that France would attend the Washington meeting.

Although billed as an informal session, there is every prospect that critical cold war decisions may result from this British-American-French meeting.

Far Eastern problems, especially the wars in Korea and Indo-China, undoubtedly will dominate the agenda.

FIRST INKLING

But, informed officials said today, such troublesome questions as Germany's future, the Anglo-Egyptian quarrel and North Atlantic defense problems will be reviewed also.

The first inkling that a foreign ministers' meeting was being planned came Tuesday when the acting British prime minister, Richard A. Butler, told the House of Commons Britain had suggested such a get-together.

Butler said it was necessary to discuss urgent problems and to "maintain the impetus given to our foreign policy" by the plans for a later meeting between Prime Minister Churchill, President Eisenhower and French Premier Joseph Laniel at Bermuda.

The state department, somewhat surprised that Butler talked publicly about the plans, disclosed that Secretary Dulles has agreed to the suggestion that he meet here with Lord Salisbury, acting British foreign secretary.

France has been notified with the idea that the French would send Georges Bidault, the new French foreign minister.

State department officials, while publicly expressing the view that the conference would be "very useful," appeared privately to have some reservations.

MANY PROBLEMS

One reason was an inevitable French request for more U.S. aid to fight Communists in Indo-China.

Laniel's new French government came to power last week with a pledge to do something about the heavy French financial and man-power losses in Indo-China.

Diplomats also believed it likely the foreign ministers would review German developments, in the light of the recent East German riots, and explore East-West relations generally.

Another problem likely to find its way on the agenda is Britain's long-standing quarrel with Egypt over the Suez Canal. Egypt is demanding immediate British evacuation from this strategic waterway.

The higher-level Bermuda session still is planned but no definite date has been fixed. This depends on when Churchill recovers from his present illness.

Father, Son Drowned in Fraser River

Double Tragedy at Langley Prairie

LANGLEY, B.C. (CP)—The Fraser River claimed its third and fourth victims in three days Monday when a 40-year-old man plunged to the aid of his drowning son and was also swallowed by treacherous currents.

Victims of the double tragedy were Andrew Borno of Glen Valley and his nine-year-old son, Wayne.

Two youngsters were drowned in separate accidents during the week-end.

Only witness to the Monday drownings was an unidentified woman who was gardening near the river bank.

She heard a splash and saw the father dive from the wharf. He never reached the boy and both disappeared seconds later.

HEAVY RAIN SAVES CROPS IN MIDWEST

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—An inland sweep of tropical storms today pushed showers toward west Texas and Oklahoma farm areas for which President Eisenhower made available an $8,000,000 drought disaster fund.

Downpours, as heavy as six inches, scattered over east and central Texas Tuesday in time to save pastures, cotton, peaches, late corn and vegetables in many counties.

Forecasters expected scattered rain to drift into dried-up west Texas and Oklahoma. But in much of the area a four-year drought has so denuded the soil of plant cover that rain would fall only on sandy wastes. Most of the west Texas wheat crop and much of the cotton is gone. Pastures are crisp and useless.

OWNER JUMPED OVERBOARD

Yacht Passengers Safe After Six Days Adrift

COFFS HARBOR, Australia (Reuters)—Three dazed men staggered off the yacht Irene today after six days adrift during which the owner locked them in a cabin and disappeared.

The three set out June 20 with owner James Towers, 50-year-old retired business man, on what was supposed to be a pleasant 10-hour cruise.

The 36-foot yacht's engine broke down and she drifted into a storm. After five days, said Towers, suddenly closed the hatch on them in the cabin.

"The Irene broke down three miles from the starting point," Newlin said. "Huge seas and a southwest gale drove her 80 miles out to sea where she drifted for six days."

After the passengers broke out of the cabin they found the owner had disappeared.

15-YEAR-OLD BOY LEAVES NOTE CONFESSING TO KILLING TWO

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (UP)—Sumner Harris, 50, editor of the Sturgeon Bay Advocate, and his wife were found stabbed to death early today and police sought a 15-year-old boy for questioning.

Police said the youth had left a note in which he confessed slaying the couple, but no motive was given. Authorities said the boy apparently left town during the early morning hours in the Harris car.

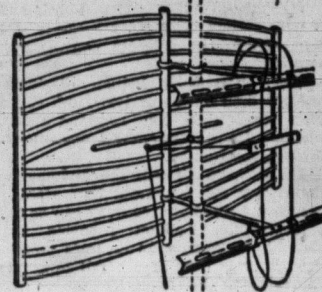

Harris and his wife had lived in Sturgeon Bay all their lives and had no known enemies, police said. Harris was editor and publisher of the weekly newspaper.

It's better business to buy Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks

more engine power!

Chevrolet Trucks offer you a selection of four famous valve-in-head engines to match load, grade and schedule. The two great 235.5 cu. in. Loadmasters (conventional and C.O.E.), the 248 cu. in. Torquemaster and the 270 cu. in. Workmaster all feature, full-pressure lubrication and improved Power-Jet carburetion for longer life, smoother performance and extra economy.

more braking power!

Twins-Action rear Brakes and Torque-Action front brakes, both with long wearing linings effectively sealed against dirt and moisture, combine to provide effective braking for greater safety and driving ease. Torque-Action front brakes are standard on all models. The positive Duo-Shoe parking brake on H.D. models, mounted at the rear of the transmission, eliminates cable stretching and greatly reduces service adjustments.

more staying power!

Now, heavier, stronger, more durable frames increase rigidity, add to ruggedness and stamina of all 1953 Chevrolet trucks. Long famous for their ability to take the toughest jobs day after day, Chevrolet trucks are now brawnier, sturdier than ever.

more economy!

The new and greater stamina of 1953 Chevrolet trucks plus extra gasoline economy in heavy-duty models with improved valve-in-head performance reduces hauling costs per ton-mile, brings you greater over-all economy throughout the long life of your trucks.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Here are a few things we think are worthy of your consideration before you buy your truck. In 1953, Chevrolet trucks are more rugged, have huskier and more rigid construction than ever in the past. This means longer truck life and lower over-all costs to you. You'll find the increased horsepower and higher compression ratios of the four great valve-in-head engines bring you greater power, greater stamina, greater performance, greater ability to do the job. You'll find that means faster acceleration, greater ability to climb the steepest grades. And you'll find a wonderful gain in gasoline mileage, too! As any owner of a 1953 Chevrolet truck knows, these are the sturdiest, most powerful trucks Chevrolet has ever built. In every load range, they have proved themselves to be the world's leading money-makers on any hauling job. Before you buy, drop in at our showroom and talk things over. Let us show you why it's better business to buy Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks.

ROYAL PAIR LEAVE FOR AFRICA VISIT

Queen Mother, Princess Margaret En Route By Comet Jet Liner; Queen, Duke Bid Farewells

LONDON (UP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret left for South Africa today in a British Comet jet liner to attend a Cecil Rhodes centenary exhibition at Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia.

Queen Elizabeth II and her husband the Duke of Edinburgh saw them off at London airport when their plane left at 2.15 p.m. (9.15 a.m., EDT).

They will spend 16 days in the African territory.

Queen Elizabeth II returned to London Monday from her Coronation state visit to Scotland. She and the Duke of Edinburgh will leave Wednesday on a three-day visit to Northern Ireland.

It was a gay party at London airport. The Queen Mother and Princess Margaret, obviously thrilled at their second flight in a Comet airliner, laughed and chatted with the Queen and her husband on the tarmac in front of the aircraft.

The Queen Mother was dressed in white and grey silk and a shiny straw boater.

Princess Margaret wore a full-skirted frock of pastel blue with a tiny straw boater.

Both had sprigs of white heather for luck.

Final farewells with the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh were exchanged inside the aircraft.

CHEERING CROWD

Before the take off the Queen Mother with Princess Margaret stood for some moments at the head of the gangway waving to a cheering crowd at the airport.

Then, with its familiar high pitched whine the Comet was away en route for Rome where the royal travelers were due in time for tea.

The Queen Mother and Princess Margaret sat facing each other in the Comet and waved from the window until the aircraft was out of sight.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh stood waving from the roof of the royal lounge at London Airport and when the Comet could be seen no longer they strolled back to their car through an excited crowd.

On Thursday they leave the capital by train for Bulawayo, where the Queen Mother will open the Central African Rhodes Centenary Exhibition. The royal visitors will stay in Southern Rhodesia until July 16.

Their tour includes visits to African villages and townships besides various development projects.

The Queen Mother will lay the foundation stone of the Rhodesian University at Salisbury before she returns to Britain by Comet on July 16.

ARISE SIR...

Queen Knights Two Famous Sports Stars

LONDON (UP)—A jockey and a cricket star knelt before Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace today, were tapped on the shoulders with a sword and rose, respectively, as Sir Gordon Richards and Sir Jack Hobbs.

Actor John Gielgud also was among 59 new knights to be formally invested.

Pint-sized Richards, champion jockey, and Hobbs, greatest cricket batsman of all time, were knighted for their services to their sports.

As each new knight knelt before her, she tapped him with her sword and said "Arise, Sir."

Richards was the first jockey ever knighted. But Australian Don Bradman, another all-time great cricket batsman, was knighted by King George VI in 1939.

"I was very scared," Hobbs said of the ceremony. "But the Queen was extremely nice. She said to me 'I have been waiting to meet you.'"

Unidentified Man Interrupts St. Laurent's Station Speech

NEWCASTLE, N.B. (CP)—An elderly man broke into a train-side speech by Prime Minister St. Laurent today to protest that he had been unable to get a pension after losing a son in the war. He described himself as having been "kicked to one side like a dog" when endeavoring to get the pension.

The interruption drew a prompt reply by the prime minister that Canada's provisions for war veterans are the most generous of any country in the world.

The elderly man stopped Mr. St. Laurent as the prime minister was speaking from a baggage truck to about 200 persons at the station of this lumber town, the first speech of his Maritime tour.

The interrupter had come off a train that was just about to pull out and he hopped back aboard the starting train before anyone could learn his name. He said he had appealed unsuccessfully for a pension for his son to former Prime Minister King, Mr. St. Laurent, Defense Minister Claxton and Health Minister Martin.

Mr. St. Laurent, who had been talking of his trip to the Cor-

Reserve Judgment on Freight Hike

OTTAWA (CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners reserved judgment Monday on an appeal against a $1,000,000 a-year freight-rate boost on West Coast lumber shipped to Toronto, Montreal and other eastern Canadian markets. The increase has been held in abeyance pending the board's decision.

C. W. Brazier of Vancouver, counsel for B.C. and other western lumber groups which initiated the appeal, charged the increase was part of a secret tariff deal between Canadian and American railway interests operating out of the Pacific coast. The charge was denied by railway witnesses. They said the increase was designed to correct an error in interpretation of terms of federal government's $7,000,000 per year subsidy on lumber shipments between eastern and western Canada.

The effect of the increase—suspended by the board pending the outcome of the current appeal—was to jump lumber rates 14 cents a hundred pounds on hauls between Vancouver and Toronto and 14½ cents a hundred pounds on hauls between Vancouver and Montreal.

The Size of the Pie

IN THEORY THE OLD AGE pension system of Canada is financed by a sales tax of 2 per cent, a personal income tax of 2 per cent and a corporation tax of 2 per cent. Only in theory, however. During the fiscal year which ended last March 31 the scheme incurred a deficit of $99 millions, or about $7 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

This amount was covered by a so-called "loan" from the treasury, which means a contribution from the general body of taxpayers. Revenues from the old age pension taxes amounted to $223 millions, while pensions cost $323 millions, in round figures.

While the Canadian people must pay the whole cost of pensions one way or another, as they pay every bill contracted by the state, the scheme is now seen to fall far short of the contributory principle on which it was based. Nearly a third of its cost is smuggled away into the ordinary budget.

The result, of course, is to disguise the true cost and to encourage demands for higher pensions—as if anyone but the taxpayers would pay for them. Mr. Drew, for example, (an apostle of rigid economy who is never tired of blaming the government for spending too much), proposes to grant pensions to everyone at the age of 65 years—a gigantic increase in the total budget. Even without any change in the present system the cost will increase steadily as our population grows and ages.

It is no wonder, therefore, that the government declined to go ahead with a national health insurance program which would probably cost almost twice the old age pension system and would involve an increase of something like one half in the present income tax, or the equivalent. The plain fact is that, at our present level of production and wealth, we cannot afford any heavy increase in our social security measures simply because the taxpayers are not ready to foot the bill.

It is always easy for the state to redistribute the nation's income by collecting taxes from one man and paying them to another. In Canada, as in other democratic countries, we have gone a long way in that direction, thus producing a more equitable and civilized society. But the vital problem of the state is to make sure that there is abundant wealth to distribute. If the pie shrinks the size of the individual slices will shrink also, whatever their shape may be.

At the moment, fortunately, the Canadian pie is proportionately the second largest in the world. This year, it is calculated, our gross national product, our real wealth, will be the highest on record and that is the sovereign test of any government's economic policies. Thus judged, the national housekeeping of the St. Laurent government has been good and stands in vivid contrast to that of many other governments the world over.

The traditional recipe for winning elections is to promise the electors something for nothing, a method often successfully followed in British Columbia. Mr. St. Laurent has refused to practice that kind of deception. He has rejected for the present any increase in old age pensions or a health insurance scheme of incalculable cost. This may lose him some votes but the great majority of Canadians, we believe, is opposed to any large tax increases and is determined to keep the nation's finances in order.

In the present economic climate of the world caution is certainly required. The economists quarrel over the prospects though on the whole they seem good, but it seems obvious that the peak of the inflationary boom has passed, surpluses are developing in some of the major raw materials like wheat, wholesale prices are a little weaker and it would be unwise in the extreme to expect the recent spectacular increase in Canada's wealth to continue at the post-war rate.

Under these conditions the national government cannot afford to make commitments today which the economy could not support tomorrow. Whether the government is wise politically, by the cynical measurement of votes, remains to be seen. Its wisdom economically can be tested by the actual state of the nation. In economic measurement and in other measurements even more important, Canada undoubtedly is the most fortunate nation of these times. Only continuance of sound government can keep it so.

New Deal for the Older Worker

AS RECENTLY AS LAST WEEK an authority on the medical care of elderly people called upon the federal government to set the lead in extending the working life of older employees. The doctor in question protested the arbitrary retirement of government servants at a fixed pensionable age. The procedure, he said, was bad medicine, bad sociology and bad economics.

The force of that argument, repeated in many quarters in recent years, is apparently recognized by Ottawa. Acknowledgment comes in the form of a federal announcement, washing out the arbitrary retirement age of 65 years for civil servants and carrying with it provision to hire personnel above the deadline formerly set as well as lowering the age at which young people may enter the civil service.

The federal action should be followed provincially.

Here is a practical measure to overcome an injustice in the treatment of government staff members. In future a person still mentally and physically able to do his job may continue at it beyond 65, thereby giving the country the benefit of his experience, enjoying for himself a better standard of living and retaining ing a mental alertness that is often lost when people are forced away from their chosen work.

The change announced in the order is essentially good. It does, however, carry with it one other problem. That is the possible obstacle left in the path of a second-in-command whose hopes of advancement may diminish as his senior's term in service is extended.

Confronted with such a condition during the war years, certain agencies on this continent followed a policy of retaining the senior, with or without a reduction in pay, as an advisor on major decisions while he was actually employed in a secondary job. The expedient was followed as a war measure, when labor was scarce, and the acceptance of what amounted to a demotion was urged upon the people concerned as a war sacrifice.

Whether such an arrangement could be applied to the federal government service—or whether it would be desirable if it could be—is a matter for study.

The change which favors the older worker should not, we suggest, be too prejudicial to his immediate junior.

One problem has been solved. The other is not beyond solution.

Bilingualism—A Continuing Hope

THE ROAD TO REAL CANADIAN unity, according to Dr. Adrien Plouffe of Montreal, is bilingualism.

Speaking to the Canadian Authors Association in Montreal recently, he suggested "All Canadians should be Canadians and all Canadians should be Canadians."

On the Pacific Coast and in many other parts of Canada, that is an engaging and almost entirely academic proposal. High school students in this community study French. They may take it two, three or four years, and when they have received their credits in the subject, they commonly lay their text books aside and say "That's that." From that time onward, French usually becomes something they "took" in high school and quickly forgot.

They have little if any practical use for it. There is no call for the language in the ordinary realms of business in this part of the nation.

Apart from the Alliance Francaise meetings, there is scant opportunity to speak it.

Conceivably a more enlightened approach to teaching the language might stimulate a continuing interest in French, but that is conjectural. Geography—the rolling miles between the Pacific Coast and Eastern Canada, where the tongue is in common usage—defeats bilingualism in this part of the nation.

As the cement required to bind French-speaking and English-speaking Canadians together in real unity, bilingualism—operative bilingualism—is more a hope than a reality. It should still be possible, however, to impress high school students with the value of French as something other than a text book subject to be put away permanently at graduation.

Perhaps interest could be created by supplementing the usual high school lessons with the occasional talk in French by French-speaking Canadians.

Mr. Snifkin's Black Bear

THIS bear, as Mr. Horace Snifkin tells the story, was small and black and mangy, an indifferent sort of third-class bear. When it was first sighted on the trail by Mrs. Snifkin she took to her heels in one direction while Mrs. Snifkin took to hers (with a shriek) in the other.

Mr. Snifkin says he didn't believe Mrs. Snifkin's report. A lonely woman in the bush is liable to see anything. Undoubtedly, Mr. Snifkin reported, she had seen a black dog, probably Mr. Snifkin's own spaniel which, stiffened by old age, walks like a bear and is even more stupid.

So everybody around the lake concluded that Mrs. Snifkin was suffering from an hallucination. Just the same the neighbors avoided the trail at night. Mr. Snifkin never set out to cut wood without the spaniel as a sentry and Colonel Blossom regaled us with blood-curdling tales of tiger hunting in India. But nothing more was heard of the bear until last night.

MR. SNIFKIN entertained a group of his cronies at a quiet game of cards, losing heavily to the amount of eighty-five cents. In the course of this entertainment the card players contributed several dollars to the treasury of the provincial government and, by midnight, were feeling no pain.

When they heard a crackling sound in the bush outside the cabin they agreed that it was only a deer and went on with their game.

In the early hours of this morning Colonel Blossom and the others marched homeward down the trail with a candle in a tin can, singing Sweet Adeline very sweetly and in perfect harmony. As they passed Mrs. Snifkin's house they remarked that she was a nervous woman, that the bear was a figment of an overwrought imagination or Mr. Snifkin's aged spaniel.

AS his custom, for reasons of health, Mr. Snifkin retired to a porch on the shore of the lake and slept the sleep of the just who have honorably contributed to the revenues of the state. When, in the first frail light of dawn, Mrs. Snifkin called from inside the cabin that she heard something moving about the woods, Mr. Snifkin told her to stop imagining things and went back to sleep.

A few minutes later, however, Mr. Snifkin was awakened by a grunting, snuffling sound and cautious footsteps on the porch. This did not alarm him. His spaniel, he knew, had long suffered from insomnia and was in the habit of wandering about at night. Mr. Snifkin therefore admonished the dog to go back to bed and he resumed the sleep of the just, though Mrs. Snifkin muttered that she didn't like these sounds in the least.

MR. SNIFKIN had not been sleeping long before he was aroused again, this time by the sound of heavy breathing and a warm, damp pressure on the back of his neck. Even that did not disturb him unduly, since the spaniel is an affectionate pet and often demonstrates his friendship by licking the exposed portions of his friends.

Mr. Snifkin was not alarmed but he was annoyed. Without turning over or opening his eyes he thrust his hand out of the bed and pushed a hairy head and moist nose away from him, addressing some angry advice to the spaniel. The pressure was relaxed, the demonstration of affection ceased and a heavy body retreated clumsily across the porch with a crack of footsteps which seemed to Mr. Snifkin rather noisy. The spaniel, he thought to himself, is getting old and stiff and is not long for this world.

AT that moment the silence of the lakeshore was broken by a long penetrating scream, like the cry of some wild waterfowl, probably (as Mr. Snifkin supposed) a loon. When the cry was repeated Mr. Snifkin recognized the voice of his wife who, staggering forth from the cabin in her night attire, announced incoherently that she had seen the bear walking down the steps.

The language which Mr. Snifkin then used to the wife of his bosom and the faithful helpmate of his life is not of the sort to be printed in a family newspaper. Mr. Snifkin admits that he spoke roughly to Mrs. Snifkin and also addressed some comments to Mrs. Snifkin who had started all the trouble.

It took some minutes for Mr. Snifkin, standing like an orator on the dark porch in his pyjamas, to persuade his wife that she had seen only the spaniel and that she had better return to her bed. She finally retired in her nightgown and a mild state of hysteria.

WHEN man and wife arose in the morning they both laughed at that before she retired. And under the stove, within the closed kitchen, lay the spaniel as he had lain all night.

The kitchen doors were firmly closed. Mrs. Snifkin had made sure of that before she retired. And under the stove, within the closed kitchen, lay the spaniel as he had lain all night.

AT that point it was Mr. Snifkin who emitted a long, penetrating scream like some wild waterfowl. When he had recovered sufficiently he examined the floor of the porch and there discovered some dusty footprints about five inches in diameter.

For which reasons there will be no evening poker parties at Mr. Snifkin's for some time, the trail is quite deserted after dark and Mrs. Snifkin has acquired a new respect in their neighborhood.

As I record these simple facts in my cabin, about midnight, I can hear a crackling sound in the bush. I do not propose to investigate it.

The Report On Forced Labor

New York Times

THE final report of the special committee of the United Nations and the International Labor Organization on forced labor, published today, is likely to remain for a long time a milestone on the road of man's age-long struggle for dignity and his right to labor without coercion by the state.

The authors of the report make it clear that there exist two systems of forced labor, one used to coerce and punish those who hold or express political views and the other used as a measure for important economic purposes.

Unfortunately for the world, this new slavery, exemplified by practices initiated in the Soviet Union, is spreading beyond that nation's borders and in greater or less degree has penetrated the satellite nations.

Even more tragic, as the report points out, there is a tendency "for countries which have less severe systems to approximate them to the more severe."

The report focuses attention on the Soviet state as a new 20th century Moloch, equipped with all the mechanical discoveries of an electronic age and destroying all right to independent thought, opinion and conviction unless these conform to the attitude of the reigning dictatorship.

The judicial approach of the committee, headed by Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar of India, is admirable and praiseworthy. If anything, the report is an understatement of conditions with which we have become all too familiar in recent years.

It can be affirmed without contradiction that the committee members, who included Paul Berg, former president of the Supreme Court of Norway, and Enrique Garcia Sayan, former minister of foreign affairs of Peru, succeeded notably in discharging their tasks without prejudice, with complete impartiality and with the objective of safeguarding human rights and improving the situation of the workers.

As might have been expected, the Soviet Union refused categorically to comment on the allegations and returned the documentary material unopened, saying it had not "examined" it "since these documents contain slanderous fabrications concerning the Soviet Union." Poland acted similarly.

Yet, "out of their own mouths" might well summarize the nature of the committee's observations, for it relied heavily on the published and acknowledged laws of the 24 nations studied and on their administrative decrees and regulations involved.

It is perhaps not too great a coincidence that just as the report was released an Associated Press dispatch from Vienna quoted the Czech Communist paper Rude Pravo as saying that "the Czechoslovak Trade Union Federation ordered affiliates to send 4,000 of their best officials and workers into the coal mines at Moravska Ostrava to halt the decline in coal output." Or that the Soviet slaves in Eastern Germany's uranium mines went on protest strikes despite the Soviet ban on such demonstrations.

Discouraging as this report may appear, we may be sure that in the long run the spirit and the will of man cannot remain conquered by any human force, no matter how cruel, ruthless and apparently all-pervasive.

DENNIS THE MENACE

June 30, 1893 — There will be no balloon ascension at the Sons of Erin picnic tomorrow. While the tower was being filled at the gasworks today, the canvas at the top ripped and the balloon collapsed.

HOW ABOUT CATBIRDS?
I don't like cats. I kill them.
But I'm fair about it.
I never kill a cat until I catch him killing a bird.
I love birds.
I also love the Old Testament...
An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth.
"BIRD LOVER."

Q. AND A.
I'm getting a bit tired of "Old Vic" telling the voters of the things the voters have done to "their house." I suggest this gentleman tell us just what kind of a mess he thinks this country and province is going to be in after four years of Sacred rule. Of course if he thinks as he thinks he thinks this should be comparatively easy.
DON PRINGLE.
Langford.
(Of Vic's Note: An unthinkable mess.)

BOATHOUSE
In view of the adverse publicity we have received about the boathouse, we feel it only fair for you to make known the fact that the "numerous complaints" all originated with the one party.
A petition was circulated and unanimously signed by 20 residents who overlook the boathouse, giving it their unqualified approval. This document is at present in the hands of our lawyer, E. Jorje de St. Jorre.

BACKFIRE
Judging from the press reports and the letters that have appeared under the heading "As Our Readers See It," the individual who would create a storm within its own party, has apparently backfired! Any party running for public office can very well do without such individuals, as being neither stable in stature, mind or conviction within their own minds as to what is best.
Such individuals are not and never will be fitted for public office and we are better off without them. A party or government that serves the people in a true democratic way is the only way that will be supported by the people.
There is no room in any political party for petty bickering and maneuvering for party position. When election comes around the public remembers such individuals and usually they find themselves on the outside looking in.
W. C. MARSHALL.

WANTS THE TRUTH
In the June 24 issue of the Times appeared the news that the Soviet was floating a new state loan of $3,750,000, to be issued for popular subscription in October. Is this an olive branch to Wall Street, the cash measuring stick they understand, or is the Soviet in need of funds for internal development?
Personally, I think the former. However, coming at this time, it is a masterpiece of diplomacy. Dissect it for yourselves and I think you will come to the same conclusion.

Much has been written by DP's delegations, etc., most of them more or less colored by the individual exporter. Let us have the truth (facts) and allow us to exercise the right of mature people to form our own conclusions.
S. SMITH.
1408 Walnut Street.

BROADMINDED
Not being a member of any political party, I wonder if I may state a few opinions.

It would seem that to criticize or say anything against Social Credit or their government is unpardonable, judging by the abuse heaped upon you and your paper. Yet, during the recent campaign great stress was laid on the fact that Social Credit was "a Christian movement." They didn't say that there were no Christians amongst the other political parties, but the inference that theirs was the only Christian party was there nevertheless.

So far, I've seen very little of that Christian spirit.
In fact there has been more bickering and petty childishness shown, even amongst themselves, than ever before. Persons are dismissed, or suspended arbitrarily, from civil service, without a chance to defend themselves, yet in this latest case political patronage seems to rear its ugly head.

As to the Times itself, since Messrs. Keate, Hutchison and all have taken over, the paper is far and away one of the best.
While I don't agree entirely with the editorials, I hope I remain broadminded enough to see the other's viewpoint. So here's hoping Mr. Keate and the Times continue to print and interpret the news in their own way, and let the too-sensitive and thin-skinned be willing to absorb some criticism.
A. A. MACGREGOR.
4296 Glenford Avenue.

NOT ALL REDSKINS
It was with some surprise that I read the letter of James Audain in your issue of June 23. Mr. Audain, who seems fairly confident of becoming the Social Credit candidate for the new riding of Esquimalt-Saanich in the pending election, happens to be a second cousin of mine, which fact does not make it necessary to follow we should agree on the question of politics.

I believe that Mr. James Audain has spent very little of his life in Canada or British Columbia, but, of course, he should not be held against him as he could have made up by reading the history of this country and also apparently is now indefinitely domiciled here where he has been active in civil defense.

Mr. Audain makes a completely false assumption in his statement that Canada's rapidly advancing population will vote either CCF or Social Credit. There can be no possible grounds for such an assumption any more than there is any grounds for the statement that both "Liberals and Conservatives have abnormally failed to impress those at Ottawa that there are inhabitants west of the Rockies except the redskins."

That thought is typical of a person who does not know Canada or has not spent much of his life in the country of his maternal forbears nor has observed the tremendous development of British Columbia.

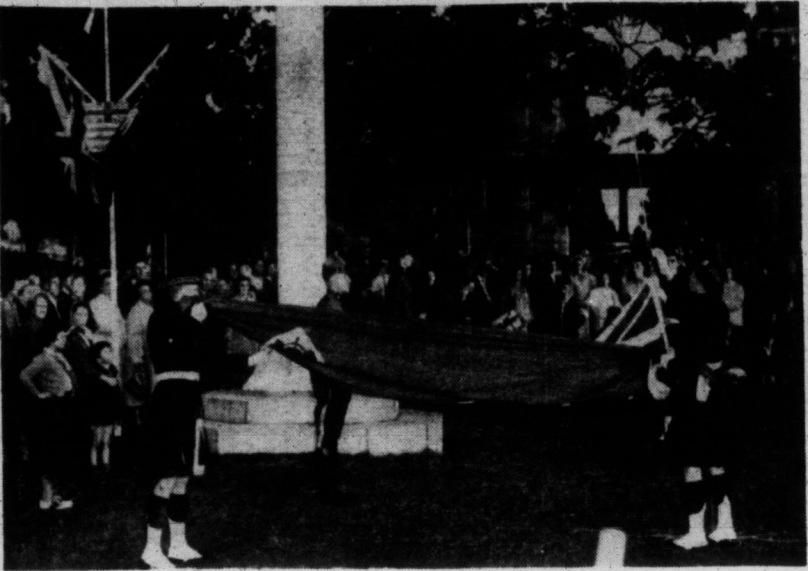

This province since the days of his great grandfather has grown from a colony to the third largest province and his idea that a rapidly expanding tide of Social Credit and as he puts it "Christian thinking may do that very thing" will accomplish what Liberals and Conservatives have failed to do.

Does he not concede that the growth of Canada as a whole and British Columbia in particular has been due to the policies of both Liberals and Conservatives who have held power alternatively not only in the federal field but in the province and does he think the people whose votes he has in mind believe that these governments were un-Christian governments and were not given to Christian thought and precept? Does he consider the provincial governments of Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes are un-Christian because they are not Social Credit governments?

His expression of personal regard to Major General George Pearkes, VC, CB, DSO, M.C. could be regarded as an impertinence as the object thereof is one who served Canada valiantly and conscientiously since the very day of his arrival from England following which he joined the North West Mounted Police and later pursued a distinguished career not only in the army but also in politics where he has served his constituents in a manner beyond compare.
ROBERT D. HARVEY.

VALUABLE TRAIT
If adaptability is a trait of the Japanese people, that quality is most valuable to them today. Guided by sound brains and realistic humanism, they must gather in from the rushing currents of the world what is truly practicable and beneficial to their national circumstances, and therewith keep their insular position well balanced on the globe. Fortunately there are, it seems to me, a considerable amount of sound-thinking, far-seeing, courageous-hearted men and women in this country, who are now staunchly leading and defending the young democracy in Japan.

Kilt Swings at Sunset Ceremonies

Kilted members of the Canadian Scottish Regiment took care no portion of the flag touches the ground as they completed sunset ceremonies on the Parliament Building lawn Monday night. Band and color guard wore scarlet tunics and tall feather bonnets. In attendance were both pipers and brass sections of regimental band. Mounties and Boy Scouts added to color as a big crowd turned out to see pre-Dominion Day ceremonies.

He Supports Ike, But...

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S problem with his own party is agreeably symbolized by Noah Mason, one of the unreconstructed members of the House Ways and Means Committee who are fighting the Administration on the extension of the excess profits tax.

This small, brisk, genial, silver-thatched old man thinks that Eisenhower is a great President. In the chatty weekly letter that he writes to his Illinois Congressional District, Mason has sternly berated the American business community for "just giving the President passive support." But ask Mason where he has stood on the main items of that rather small Eisenhower legislative program, and you get some odd answers:

How did he vote on the Foreign Aid bill? "I've been against all these giveaway programs from the start, and I was against that one."

How about the renewal of the President's government reorganizing powers? "I was against that too."

And the Pakistan wheat bill? "Another giveaway. I opposed it."

And the one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act? "I'm proud to say I've voted against every extension of reciprocal trade since I came to the House nearly 17 years ago."

How about statehood for Hawaii? Surely he was for that? "No sirree, I was dead against that too."

But had there been any bill the President wanted, which the House had so much as bothered to argue about, that he had voted for? "Just can't think of any right now."

In other words, Noah Mason is a life-long Republican from a rock-ribbed Republican district, who has an unblemished record of continuous opposition to the first Republican national administration in two decades. There are a good many others like him in the House, from the Midwest and the country districts of the East. He is a phenomenon of some significance, worth having a look at.

In a kind of way, to begin with, Noah Mason is the American dream come true. His family—he was the twelfth of thirteen children—emigrated from Wales when he was a child; and his father went to work in one of the now-played-out Illinois minefields. In the House of Representatives, taxation has become his specialty, and he has considerable say about it as a member of the Ways and Means Committee. He wants, as he frequently remarks, to "relieve the overtaxed by taxing the untaxed." By this he means reducing income and corporate taxes, while levying a manufacturers' sales tax, taxing co-operatives, and depriving the churches, charitable foundations and universities of most of their existing exemptions.

More generally, Noah Mason would like to repeal every item of social and economic legislation of the last twenty years. (Another favorite plan is to balance the budget by selling all government power projects on the open market). He is 100 per cent protectionist, 100 per cent isolationist. His twin heroes are Sen. McCarthy and Gen. MacArthur. And he thinks that "the Communist threat from within is much worse than the threat from without."

"When I was sixteen, seventeen, eighteen," he says, with a characteristic twinkle, "I was almost a liberal. I took a nibble of everything new. But now, some people might almost call me a reactionary."

Withal, Noah Mason is not at all like the bitter old men and cheap young demagogues who form the majority of his Republican faction. He is kindly, friendly, unassuming and altogether sincere in his peculiar beliefs. None the less, the question remains—and it is a pressing question—whose party is it, Noah Mason's or Dwight D. Eisenhower's?

Jail Terms for Two Men Sequel To Wild Car Chase in Calgary

CALGARY (CP)—The sequel to a wild car chase through Calgary last April wound up in police court Monday with Clem Reiss of Edmonton being sentenced to two years for car theft and John Devlin of Calgary to 18 months for retaining stolen property.

Elmer Semon of Calgary was acquitted in connection with the theft of a car in Edmonton when he appeared along with Reiss and Devlin. The three were arrested in a stolen car April 28 after a wild chase through city streets.

FUND FOR BURNED CHILD

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (CP)—The Bonnie Chase fund has climbed to nearly $1,600, the Elks Club of Drumheller announced Monday.

The fund will be used to aid in medical care for Bonnie Chase, five-year-old girl who was badly burned recently when her clothing caught fire. She is in an Edmonton hospital.

MINERAL SEARCH

EDMONTON (CP)—Four Alberta Research Council geologists will investigate mineral possibilities of the precambrian shield where this belt of rock touches the northeastern corner of the province.

SC Chieftain Says Liberals Financing Bad

OTTAWA (CP)—Solon Low, national Social Credit leader, charged the Liberal government Monday night with financial "mismanagement" and said his party will dedicate itself to the job of "restoring the purchasing power of the Canadian dollar" if elected to power.

The Liberals' plan of family allowances was a good thing, said Mr. Low, but through "its mismanagement of the financial part of our Canadian economy, the Liberal government had allowed the purchasing power of the Canadian dollar to decline so seriously that every child by 1952-53 was suffering confiscation of purchasing power to the extent of $32.17 per year."

Mr. Low's speech, reviewing the Social Credit platform, was broadcast over the CBC's free-time election campaign series on its Dominion network. An innovation was Mr. Low's introduction of his wife to his radio audience.

Mrs. Low said a Social Credit government would introduce an "economic system to finance consumption." This would be done through the issuance of purchasing power that would "help balance production and consumption." This would help solve the economic problems of those who received it and at the same time "improve the financial condition of the country."

Mr. Low said the family allowances scheme was "worthy," but "bad management and poor housekeeping by the Liberal government very largely nullified their effect."

David R. Hawthorn, Houston, Texas, in his testimony on behalf of Western Pipe Lines said the board's estimate of 1,000,000,000 cubic feet should be amended to twice that amount of new gas reserves each year.

The board had estimated the number of wildcat wells drilled in the next seven or eight years would continue at the present rate of 400 to 500 wells each year. This was a safe estimate but the board had apparently taken the view that results per unit of effort would begin to show diminishing returns, Mr. Hawthorn said.

EXPANSION

BRANDON (CP)—Canadian retailers will spend $200,000,000 this year on construction of stores, warehouses and fixtures—an increase of 50 per cent over last year.

The statement was made Monday by Fraser E. Reid, general manager of Simpson Sears Ltd. of Regina, in his address to the Western Canada Trade Fair luncheon here.

He said the upswing "is an indication of the faith that retailers have in the continued high level of business."

Mr. Reid reported that each Canadian used or consumed last year from 50 to 60 per cent more goods than in 1939.

JORDAN RIVER—Lorna Fatt and Evelyn Dodds tied for the girls' high aggregate cup at the district sports day here sponsored by the PTA and Jordan River Athletic Association.

Jackie Corman won the boys' high aggregate award. The tricycle race for pre-school children was won by Bobby Cawsey.

Bernard cup for sportsmanship was won by Jean Cawsey in the girls' section, and Keith Reeves of the boys.

DUNCAN—City Council on Monday questioned the proposed use by District 65 school board of unexpended by-law funds for school repairs and equipment purchases, saying that under the Municipal Act money raised for buildings could not be diverted for another purpose, even though permitted by the education department under the Public Schools Act.

J. Y. Copeman, city solicitor, will check to see if late amendments will permit use of the funds, left as residue of a $790,000 building by-law passed in 1948.

NANAIMO—George Good was fined $150 and costs in police court here when charged with impaired driving and a recommendation will be made that his license be suspended.

Palance Would Change Roles

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The most sensational movie menace in many years, Jack Palance, wants to give up scaring people.

The squarely-built coal miner's son and former prize-fighter made a solid impression with film fans when he played a murderous game of hide-and-seek with Richard Widmark in "Fugitive in the Streets."

He landed an Oscar nomination for trying to bump off Joan Crawford in "Sudden Fear." He's a hit now in his role of attempting the same for Alan Ladd in "Shane."

"I want to get away from sadistic killers," he said.

"When I go home at night, I get the feeling that people are following me."

"I don't want to get typed as a sadistic killer. I like being an actor, and I know you have to get varied roles to stay in business."

He says his fan mail supports his theory.

He gets a lot of letters to the effect of "don't let them type you in pictures." Right now he's getting his wish. He has Joan Fontaine and Corinne Calvet clamoring for him in "Flight to Tangier."

Palance's career is following the pattern established by a number of film greats.

Humphrey Bogart started in films as the gangster Duke Mantee in "Petit Fours" and spent years trying to get on the right side of the law. He finally made it. Clark Gable also started as a dame-slapping bad guy, then mellowed into leading man parts.

Palance appears less menacing in person than he does in films. He is handsome, his face being more rugged and not as severe-looking as in his pictures.

Palance interrupted his college studies at the University of North Carolina to enter the ring as a professional boxer. His promising ring career, 20 fights, 18 wins, was in turn interrupted by the air force. When he got out of the service, he returned to school, this time at Stanford. That's when he turned actor.

Diefenbaker Challenges St. Laurent

Wants Announcement
As To Retirement

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — John Diefenbaker has challenged Prime Minister St. Laurent to announce whether he will retire as federal Liberal party leader after the Aug. 10 general election.

In a speech prepared for delivery Monday night over a CBC national network, Mr. Diefenbaker said there has been "an apparent, concerted effort to indulge in personal attacks" on Progressive Conservative leader George Drew.

Mr. Diefenbaker, PC candidate in Prince Albert after 13 years in parliament as member from Lake Centre which was wiped out by redistribution, said "the endeavor to liquidate all political opponents by resort to personalities is not in keeping with the best traditions of public life."

PROOF ON RECORD

Proof of Mr. Drew's capacity was his war record, his achievements both as premier and opposition leader in the Ontario legislature and his record as opposition leader in the Commons.

DICTATORSHIP

Declaring the Liberals are describing themselves as the "men who cannot be replaced," Mr. Diefenbaker said if that were so, "we would have achieved a virtual dictatorship in Canada."

"The present government in Ottawa has all but achieved absolute power. It can control every avenue of life in Canada under the Emergency Powers Act and put themselves above the constitution . . .

"Eighteen years of power by any party demands a change in the interests of good government."

The Progressive Conservatives would change to a government that respected parliament, would not be arrogant and defiant of the people, and would not by-pass parliament.

A change would make ministers of the Crown servants of the people. In the last few years fair and proper information on the tax-payers' money had been withheld by the Liberal government.

"It is a fact," Mr. Diefenbaker added, "that about the only information that the government will give is such that in its opinion will not embarrass it."

Canadian Club Elects McKeand

Canadian Club of Victoria elected Major D. L. McKeand, M.C. president at the annual meeting in the Union Club, Monday night.

D. A. M. Patterson was elected vice-president and Patrick Dunn second vice-president. Howard S. Clark was named auditor.

Elected to the executive committee were: E. G. Rowbottom, John H. Brown, R. W. Chard, Capt. R. W. McMurray, George I. Warren, J. C. Thow and Capt. A. I. Weir.

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

*TCP,* a Shell-discovered additive, now blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, raises power up to 15% by putting an end to sparkplug misfiring due to combustion deposits. Increases spark-plug life up to 150%*

A new day in fuel for the Canadian motorist is here—a day which, for the first time, allows him to get the full power built into his engine.

Prior to Shell's discovery of TCP, the natural by-products of fuel combustion accumulating on spark plugs and in combustion chambers caused spark plugs to misfire and the fuel mixture to pre-ignite—especially when accelerating, hill climbing or touring on the open highway.

To overcome this power-wasting, fuel-wasting condition—prevalent in the majority of cars—Shell Research discovered and developed a gasoline additive, TCP. Blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, TCP prevents these deposits from causing misfiring of the spark plugs and, at the same time, controls pre-ignition. For the average motorist, this means a power boost of up to 15%, an increase in spark plug life of up to 150%, plus an increase in miles per gallon! These facts have been established by over a million miles of standard model road testing.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is the most significant motor fuel advance since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922.

New and old engines benefit

If you have a new car, particularly one with a high-compression engine, Shell Premium with TCP is essential if you want it to keep on delivering its original power for the normal life of the spark plugs. But high-compression or not, Shell Premium with TCP keeps your engine working like new.

Owners of older cars also benefit. Even if your car has gone 30,000 miles or more, your engine can get back much of its original power by the use of Shell Premium with TCP.

Shell Premium with TCP acts fast

So rapidly does Shell Premium with TCP counteract the deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers, you'll feel your engine's had a tune up before you've finished the second tankful. You'll enjoy that new car pep again!

NOW IN CANADA

But only at your Shell Dealer's

TCP was originally developed by Shell Research for aviation fuels and until now has been largely restricted to military aircraft.

Today, Shell Premium with TCP is available in this area, but only from your Shell Dealer.

SAANICH COUNCIL APPROVES ADDITIONAL TWILIGHT HOMES

Saanich Council Monday night gave approval for four more Twilight Homes for aged persons, to be built in the vicinity of St. Luke's Church by the Twilight Homes Ltd. Council said two lots on Cedar Hill Cross Road, near Ophir, could be used by the group sponsoring the housing project. The new units will be built on a block from the units already established at the Cedar Hill and Cedar Hill Cross Roads intersection.

Application for the lots met with some opposition from nearby home owners. William R. Averill, 1520 Cedar Hill Cross Road; J. Murray, 1526 Cedar Hill Cross Road, and H. P. Pillinger, 1548 Cedar Hill Cross Road, all appeared before the council to express their fear that the cottages for old people would affect the value of their homes.

Those behind the housing project said the four units planned would cost $60,000 and would not detract from property values.

Canon Frederick Pike said: "When the homes are built and landscaped I believe the objectors will change their minds."

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

By L. G. ROBINSON, DDS

Pigs' Diet Makes Good Example

Do you ever visit country friends and watch them feeding the pigs apple and potato parings and other scraps of food considered too unappetizing for human use?

Ever hear of a farmer taking his pigs to the veterinarian to have their teeth fixed?

If you could see, as dentists do, the below par condition of the average human mouth, then compare what you saw with the healthy soft tissues and perfect teeth in the mouths of animals, such as cats, dogs and pigs, you might well feel humiliated.

Something surely went wrong, somewhere down the line, and it didn't happen to the animals!

Civilization brought many advantages to humans, but it brought a few troublesome side issues, too. It brought cultured appetites; a highly developed taste for unnaturally spiced or sweetened, or otherwise tampered-with foods and drinks; a finicky and fussy attitude toward the matter of eating, which could well take a much less prominent part in our lives.

Being finicky and fussy brought a lot of grief, for we often throw away nature's special storehouses for the vitamins and mineral substances provided for building strong and healthy bones and teeth.

Nature packs a lot of those vitamins and minerals in or near the skin and outer layers of fruits and vegetables, and in or near the bones of meat.

We can buy not too good substitutes for those materials at a fairly high cost. Or we can learn to cook potatoes in their skins; avoid scraping all the outer goodness from carrots or other root vegetables; use the outer green leaves of lettuce and cabbage—not just the white inner parts; and if Junior, or anyone else, for that matter, wants to gnaw a bone, for goodness sake (speaking literally) let nature take its course.

The next time your faithful dog grins up at you, showing a row of perfect, gleaming white teeth, give a thought to these facts. Maybe it's not just a grin—maybe it's a laugh, and on you!

Budapest Shakeup

LONDON (AP)—A shakeup in the Hungarian Communist hierarchy was announced today by Budapest radio.

The job of secretary general of the Communist central committee held by Premier Matyas Rakosi was abolished but he still held his post on the Politburo which runs the government.

Amalgamation Inevitable—Shaw

Amalgamation of Victoria and its surrounding municipalities is "bound to come, sooner or later," Forrest L. Shaw told the annual meeting of the Canadian Club, Monday night.

"But it is of tremendous importance that the amalgamation that does develop is one carefully planned and developed, in the proper way," said Mr. Shaw, a former city solicitor, now a member of the B.C. Power Commission.

He has advocated amalgamation for years and a thorough investigation and study is to be made by the Chamber of Commerce, following presentation of his recent brief.

PROVE VALUABLE. Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich, Esquimalt and the unorganized territory of View Royal, all within an area of about four by seven miles in size, have separate municipal governments.

Mr. Shaw said "amalgamations" such as the Greater Victoria water system and school board have proved valuable.

More equitable taxation would result from amalgamation, he contended. At present one group of citizens is paying for benefits and services enjoyed by all, he said.

First Russian Wives Arrive

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP)—The first Russian wives of American citizens permitted to leave the Soviet Union arrived in Helsinki, Finland, today.

Eddy Gilmore, Moscow correspondent for The Associated Press, brought out his Russian-born wife and their two children. Others in the party were Robert C. Tucker, of the American Embassy in Moscow and his wife Eugenie, and Mrs. Ethel Balachova, Los Angeles-born wife of a Russian, and her two daughters.

The Gilmores were radiantly happy on their arrival here. Mrs. Gilmore, tears in her eyes, threw herself into the arms of a waiting friend at the plane side. "Wonderful, wonderful," she cried, pressing a bouquet of flowers to her face, as she ran down the stairway at Bromma airport here.

Saanich Plans Industrial Area

Saanich Council may set aside a large tract of land near the new Up-Island outlet as an industrial area.

A special committee of the council has suggested that the area west of Douglas Street, between Tolmie and Cadillac, be designated for industrial purposes. The property would extend as far west as Whittier Avenue.

A public hearing to discuss the proposal will be held before any action is taken.

Council approved of new zoning regulations calling for 1,100 square feet of floor space in homes to be built on Rithet Road. This space will not include that for garages.

MARKET SUMMARY

Toronto List Drifts Down

TORONTO (CP)—Prices drifted lower today as the stock market's close today. Industrials and base metals, market leaders during the last week or so, led the way downward today with index losses of a point each. Golds mixed in light trading while western oils slipped back half a point. Uranium and New Brunswick base metals traded definitely lower today as Gunner, Rix, Graham Bousquet and Anacon took losses ranging to 25 cents.

Industrials faded steadily throughout the day. Manufacturing companies, miscellaneous industrials and foodstuffs were lower while utilities and steel firmed.

Golds looked mixed; juniors weakened, holding companies improved and seniors were mixed.

Western oils eased narrowly in two out of three issues traded. On the downside were British, Canadian Atlantic, National Petroleum and Gridoll. Kenwell struggled ahead 15 cents against the trend.

Base metals were softer in both higher and lower-priced issues.

New York List Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market moved a bit lower today. Only motion picture shares showed persistent strength.

The apathy of traders and investors was reflected in a slow-moving tape.

Canadian issues were lower. Dome Mines and McIntyre both fell 1/2. International Nickel and Hiram Walker remained unchanged. Distillers-Seagrams added 1/4.

On the American stock exchange, Royalite Oil was unchanged.

Vancouver Quiet
Trend Irregular

Trading was very quiet on the Vancouver Stock Exchange this morning. Price trend was irregular but emphasis seemed to be on the downside.

In the mines, National Exploration lost 2 1/2 at 54, but Estella was up 2 at 62 and Silvan was up 1/2 at 50.

York Oil was quoted at 32 1/2, 35 asked at noon. A.P. Con dropped back to 30-31. Charter Oil was offered at 155 and Del Rio was 2.50 bid.

Alberta Ups Allowable Oil

CALGARY (CP)—Allowable production by Alberta oil fields during July has been set at a record 261,221 barrels daily by the petroleum and natural gas conservation board.

This is an increase of 32,119 barrels over the June allowable and compares with the 194,558 barrels a day allowed for July last year.

Canadian Oil and Petroleum, 24 1/2 cents, common to 25 cents, parable 25, record Aug. 4, 2d Aug. 4.

BUSINESS CAPSULE

By E. McLEAN, Times Business Editor

Business, Industry Still Boom in U.S.

Business and industry in the United States are sweeping past mid-1953 at just about the same high pace they've held for several months. There's little to indicate any change in tempo before the year's end, at the earliest.

T. E. Applegate, Associated Press analyst, predicts many half-year production records will tumble when all the June figures are compiled. He expects new peaks in steel, automobile, electric power and rubber outputs.

Industry sources say steel production in the U.S. will total 58,000,000 tons for the first half of 1953. Passenger automobiles will total 3,250,000.

Electric power output last week was highest in U.S. history. Freight car loadings were highest since last November. Construction contracts awarded were highest since January.

Economists who earlier this year foresaw some let-up in U.S. business and industry by mid-1953 now say there won't be any downturn before the year's final quarter.

DANGER SIGNALS

Many economists still emphasize there are some danger signals flying. For instance: Consumer credit has soared beyond $26,000,000,000. Home-building and machine-tool industries failed to show normal seasonal upturns this spring.

Some defense contracts, especially for aircraft, have been canceled, with resulting layoffs of workers.

Backlogs of orders in some industries have shrunk. Sales of used autos have failed to maintain the historic position relative to new car sales.

Manufacturing quotas for some major appliances have been curtailed.

Some companies have reduced dividend payments.

But, emphasizes AP's Applegate, all these factors put together have not been enough to cut deeply into the overall business boom in the United States.

Otto H. Anderson, president of National Steel Car Corporation since 1952, died of a heart attack while golfing Sunday.

Fisheries Price Spread

Board has begun an investigation to determine extent fishermen's earnings are affected by changes in price of fish, in cost of operation, and other factors.

Canada's wood pulp production totaled 3,665,136 tons during the first five months of this year, down slightly from 1952.

W. N. Taylor has succeeded R. S. Douglas as general manager of Western Tungsten Copper Mines Ltd. Mr. Douglas has begun private practice as a consulting engineer but will continue as Western Tungsten's consultant.

Government Housing Policy Draws Attack by Tory Leader

Canada's Liberal government is completely incapable of dealing with the nation's serious housing problem. Progressive Conservative leader George Drew told 750 Victorians at a York Theatre meeting Monday night.

He said house construction is on the decline when it should be increasing, and "one of the most serious barriers is that local taxation is being forced back on real estate by the federal government's action in centralizing taxing powers."

Houses completed last year totaled 73,000 as against 81,300 in 1951 and 89,000 in 1950.

"When we oppose centralized power, we do so not only because we believe in preserving the principles of the federal system, but also because concentration of taxing powers at Ottawa leaves less money available for local authorities."

ENCROACHMENT

"The explanation for the difficulties that many of the provincial governments are now facing, and particularly for the difficulties faced by municipal councils and school boards, is to be found in the steady encroachment on the tax dollar of the federal government," Mr. Drew said.

As a result of Ottawa's "grabbing" of tax power, he continued, practically the only place that the municipalities can find new revenue is by taxing real estate. This throws a crushing burden of taxation on the local taxpayers.

The leader was giving support to his party's long-standing platform plank that a Dominion-provincial tax conference be called to revise the whole system of taxation.

DISCOURAGEMENT

The additional burden on property, he said, has discouraged home building and home owning.

Mr. Drew said a Conservative government would exempt municipal councils and school boards from sales tax and excise taxes on all purchases of machinery and equipment. (Provincial government already exempted.)

A Tory government also would give great relief to a municipality like Esquimalt which is heavily burdened with tax-exempt government property.

"I agree that there can be no reduction by a government which tells parliament if the Department of National Defense wants a gold-plated piano it will get it. I agree that there can be no reduction by a government which builds an office building with an auditorium costing $40,000, and then for good measure puts springs costing several thousands under the floor to make it better for dancing," he said.

The PC leader said the Liberal government has treated parliament with "utter contempt and disrespect." When the government was challenged with making expenditures not authorized by parliament, Mr. Drew said the government reply was:

"If we want to get away with it, who is going to stop us?"

He said there's been no such challenge to the people since 1867.

"If you want horses on the payroll, railway sidings stolen in broad daylight, cement sacks taken without any check and stoves and refrigerators stolen in carload lots, then vote Liberal," cracked Mr. Drew.

He told the meeting only the Conservatives have a chance to form a government as an alternative to the Liberals.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, candidate in Esquimalt-Saanich, said he had observed the Liberals "little by little plucking away the rights of parliament."

"Free discussion is restricted. As the Liberals swagger under a large majority, they deliberately ignore Opposition discussions. I've seen the prime minister walk out when the Opposition Leader has been discussing an important subject," he said.

J. A. A. George, Victoria candidate, said Canadian voters have the opportunity August 10 to take the government out of the hands of a few and putting it back in the hands of the people.

Canada has lost a great portion of its overseas markets, he said, because the Liberal government failed to provide a suitable exchange system with Britain and the Commonwealth.

Drew Charges Communist Activity in Schools

Communists have attempted to teach their anti-Christ doctrine to children in Canadian schools, Progressive Conservative Leader George Drew said at a public meeting in the York Theatre Monday night.

Mr. Drew, addressing 750 Victorians, said he saw organized activity in Ontario schools and other provinces while he was serving as education minister in the eastern province.

"They tried to sow the seeds of Communism in the minds of our children. In Ontario at that time, paid Communists aides were carrying on moving pictures," he said.

The Opposition Leader did not elaborate, and did not say whether such activity is still going on, but said "we should protect the clean minds of Canadian youth."

"I don't believe there's a worse disease known to the world today," declared Mr. Drew.

The Tory leader was continuing his attack on Communism started earlier in the day when he told a press conference well-known Communists are employed by the federal government, and trained saboteurs are working in Canadian industries.

In a detailed explanation of his party's stand on Communism, the speaker said:

"We have undertaken to pass a law which will make Communist activities a criminal offense, punishable by our courts only after decision by a free and democratic Canadian jury. We have never suggested that Communism be banned."

"A Communist will take any name that suits his dishonest purpose. We say that the conspiracy of world Communism can be defined and that those who serve the Kremlin here in Canada should be dealt with as traitors guilty of a particular form of treason.

"We believe that it is utterly inconsistent that we should ask young men and women to bear arms and face the possibility of death to defend from Communist aggression and at the same time adopt a soft attitude toward Communism which this government has adopted."

"At a time when we are spending $2,000,000,000 a year for defense alone, which means $668 for the head of every family of five, it is only common sense that we should deal with the same enemy here at home and have a law which will deal with those enemies of our free society whose one purpose is to destroy our democracy under instructions from the Kremlin."

GREYHOUND

IF your hair is not naturally curly... if you want hair that holds a curl, even in rainy weather... let me whisper something in your pink, shell-like ear. At night, when you go through the ritual of subdividing your hair into little sections, here's what you do. Rub a little Lanolin into the hair. Put a little on the scalp and a little on the hair surface. Then roll your hair up the way you usually do... using bobby pins, curlers, string, old typewriter ribbons, rubber bands or whatever appeals to you most. Then just before you crawl into bed, moisten the hair around each curler. It will dry into curls while you are asleep. In the morning, merely remove the hardware from your head, exercise the scalp and gently brush your hair. You've got a glorious surprise in store for you. Curls and waves that fall naturally into place, such as you've never dreamed possible. Your hair will be shiny with radiant highlights which will invite admiration and praise, ah... even romance.

NIL-O-NAL... THE GREAT LANOLIN SUCCESS

Friends, NIL-O-NAL (spells lanolin backwards) is the most successful lanolin formula ever made. All the stickiness has been refined away, all the odor removed. NIL-O-NAL is clear, greaseless, delightful. Here in NIL-O-NAL is genuine LANOLIN extracted from the wool of sheep and blended by one of America's leading chemists, made ready for daily use by every man, woman or child who thinks long, thick, luxurious shiny, naturally wavy hair is wonderful, a joy to have and to behold. NIL-O-NAL doesn't plaster the hair... it soaks into the hair and scalp, replacing the missing natural oils that keep hair healthy, lovely, handsome and neat. Get NIL-O-NAL... only $1.79 for 2 ounces, $3.00 for 4 ounces... obtain the results promised in the first 30 days or return for full refund. We know what NIL-O-NAL can do for your hair. We know that once you've tried it you'll tell your friends. That's all we want. Now if you want the hair benefits which we know NIL-O-NAL can give you, ask for it at once at your drug or cosmetic counter.

Oak Bay Secreds Vote to Purge Scott, Holker at Hectic Meeting

Leaders of a so-called rebel faction in the Oak Bay Social Credit Association, W. A. Scott and Lou Holker, will be drummed out of the party if the provincial directors endorse a resolution passed Monday night by the Oak Bay group.

An attempt by resigning president George Alexander to have his name included in the purge resolution was squelched by the organization.

The resolution highlighted a tempestuous meeting of angry arguments, resignations, denunciations, challenges and bitter heckling by 70 arm-waving party adherents in St. Mary's Hall.

Messrs. Holker and Scott were under attack for their action in protesting government suspension of two senior civil servants for alleged mishandling of tenders.

D. A. C. Smith, purchasing commission agent, and A. B. Crowe, forestry department mechanical superintendent, were given one month's suspensions.

"THANKS TO TRANS CANADA CREDIT I CAN KEEP MY CAR"

Have you been wondering how you could be a car owner with cash instead of a motorist without money? Perhaps your answer is at Trans Canada Credit—where an experienced adviser will help you secure a loan exactly suited to your needs.

At Trans Canada Credit a car loan can be arranged very quickly—often in a matter of hours. In a private interview you'll learn about Trans Canada Credit's many loan plans—and that rates are moderate as well. Life insurance up to $1500 is arranged on your loan at no extra cost to you—a real peace-of-mind feature.

You'll find your Trans Canada Credit adviser considerate, helpful and prompt to assist you. So if you drive a car and need cash, why not phone right away?

by Premier Bennett when they allegedly accepted a revised bid on a grader after tenders had been opened.

Mr. Alexander had championed the case for the two suspended officials and felt he could not continue in office in the face of the furore created by Mr. Scott's and Mr. Holker's stand.

The formal notice of severance read, in part, as follows: "Therefore, I want everyone in B.C. to understand, I am not resigning from Social Credit, but detaching myself from those who failed to defend Social Credit in a test case, which had they not failed, would have swept away the suspicions from the minds of those who are still doubtful, and who do not believe we practice what we preach."

"ALSO A PROTEST . . ."

"My resignation is also a protest against those who so unfairly, and without reason, bitterly and violently condemned Mr. Scott, and to a lesser extent, Mr. Holker . . ."

The resignation of secretary-treasurer A. R. Taylor was also submitted and accepted.

Chairman Pell then called for nominations for a pro-tem president and touched off one of the hottest wrangles of the meeting.

Nominated was C. Rice-Jones. Bob Fleming, a director of the association, who had earlier announced that his resignation also was pending, attacked the right of the chair to call an election while three vice-presidents were on hand to fill the posts.

He was interrupted by Harry Langley who questioned Mr. Fleming's right to be heard after his promise to drop out.

"I'd like to put Mr. Fleming on the stand and question him," stated Mr. Langley.

"Go to it," snapped Mr. Fleming.

Mr. Rice-Jones began a speech of his intention to work for harmony.

"He's prejudiced," a voice called.

"You are trying to railroad Rice-Jones," called another.

A questioner wanted to know whether the constitution would allow any other course than for a vice-president to take over, but he was shouted down. Another speaker who could not identify himself as an Oak Bay member was also promptly subdued.

For a considerable time four speakers were on their feet at once to harass the chair. Mr. Rice-Jones arose to shout objections to the non-Oak Bay heckler and a private argument developed between Humphrey Golby and Art Knapp.

The non-Oak Bay member tried again and was hushed, this time by Chairman Pell. A member of the audience wandered to the speaker's table for a quiet consultation with the chairman.

"No whispering," yelled a man.

CRY RESENTED
"Out of order," cried W. A. Scott in his first utterance of the noisy meeting.

"Imagine him calling for order in anything," said a woman with a backward, baleful glance.

Mr. Rice-Jones took the meeting off on a new course then. He asked that a nominating committee be set up.

"They must be men who don't want to me MPs or who want government jobs, otherwise we'll have patronage charged," he said.

A vote was finally taken on the matter of the executive carrying on, and was soundly defeated. A second vote was quickly called, this time on the election of Mr. Rice-Jones.

A voice from the floor called "All in favor," and the vote was made and won for Mr. Rice-Jones.

In his acceptance speech, he said: "As far as I am concerned the person who joined the movement yesterday has the same rights as the old-timers. That question causes more bitterness than anything else."

On assuming the chair the new president immediately called for vote on a prepared resolution as follows:

"Whereas it is the opinion of the meeting that Messrs. Holker's and Scott's conduct has been detrimental to the Social Credit organization in B.C., be it resolved that the board of directors of the B.C. Social Credit League withdraw their membership cards."

"Who drew it up?" someone asked.

"I helped," said Mr. Rice-Jones. "I can't see how we can have harmony as long as Scott and Holker are members."

"Why was I left out of this motion?" asked Mr. Alexander.

"I was leader in this thing," Harry Langley supported that idea. He lashed out at Mr. Alexander, said: "... you failed miserably" as president.

The main question was called and only eight voted against the expulsion.

"You'll regret that one," cried Mr. Scott.

The meeting ended with the naming of a six-man nominating committee for the annual meeting in July.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

There is grave danger a very significant moment in our lives will pass unheralded unless something is done about it. Master Peter Loudon, of the Times' news staff, has just brought me the breathless news. At noon tomorrow (Wednesday), we shall have struggled through exactly one-half of 1953's 365 days.

We should plan to celebrate this achievement in fitting style. Let us not gamble we'll be around to welcome the next New Year.

Here, then, is a Between-Times public service feature—how to celebrate New One-Half Year's Eve and New One-Half Year's Day.

(It is too bad we didn't think of this earlier, so July First would be changed from a full holiday to a half-holiday.)

If you are a wife, and are cross with your husband, do not call him a loafer. Remember, half a loafer is better than none.

If you are a husband, and your wife is cross with you, be sure to meet her half way.

On New One-Half Year's Day, do not be any sillier than you half to.

On the other hand, be sure to do everything by halves. Remember, them as halves gets.

Make lots and lots of Half New Year's resolutions, each of which, in full, states: "I solemnly resolve not to."

At your New One-Half Year's Eve party you are permitted to be half-hearted, but there are certain rules to remember:

Fill the flowing bowl half way to the brim with half-and-half.

Hire a half-wit to recite "Half-a-League, Half-a-League, Half-a-League Onward."

As the party grows, you will no doubt have half a mind to sing. This is okay, so long as you sing exactly half of the chorus of "Auld Lang Syne," as follows:

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot, and never brought to mind, we'll drink."

However, be careful not to get more than half sloshed. Thus you will be only half-way over the next morning.

And advise your guests to leave their cars parked, and for safety's sake, call a Halfway Taxi.

Oh, look! Here come those nice men in the white jackets. And they're wearing half-Wellingtons!

Don't worry, I'll go quietly—I'm only half-cracked. I'll have a semi-private room, please.

Half New Year, everybody—HALF NEW YEAR.

(Ed. Note: The half-year actually falls on Thursday, not Wednesday, proving Between-Times is only half right. As usual.)

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Annual Hole-in-One Contest and Carnival of the Victoria Gyro Club opens Wednesday at the Central Junior High School grounds. It will continue until Saturday.

Extra games and novelties are planned for the event this year and there is a long list of prizes and special awards.

Badly burned when matches she was playing with last Saturday night her clothing, Wendy Patterson, aged two, of Charlton Road, Colquitz, was reported to have improved at St. Joseph's Hospital today. She suffered third-degree burns to the chest, face and arm.

Three members of St. John Ambulance Brigade of Victoria have been admitted to the Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem. They are Dr. W. W. Bell, Mrs. Elsie Humble, superintendent of Oak Bay nursing division, and Miss Gladys Hewlings, area cadet officer of Vancouver Island.

Mayor Claude Harrison has called a special City Council meeting for July 7, at 2 p.m., to consider second and third readings of a by-law permitting zoning of lots on Simcoe Street near Menzies.

George M. Lang, HMC Supply School, Esquimalt, received a $3 fine in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to the offense of driving a car on the public streets which did not have a rear tire or tube.

Officials of the Medical Clinic building, 1055 Fort, reported Monday night $25 in cash box and stamps and petty cash were stolen from the reception room.

A portable radio worth $69.50 was stolen from Fletcher's Music Store, Douglas Street, on Monday afternoon, under the noses of store officials. Suspect is a middle-aged man seen by a clerk to be handling the radio near the doorway in the early afternoon.

Civic staffs honored two of their colleagues with presentations tonight on their leaving the civic service. Mrs. W. G. Frampton, the former Wynne Meikle, is leaving the city's employment after 13 years. Mrs. Frampton was married recently. Milton Williams, senior case worker with the city social welfare department, retired tonight after 28 1/2 years' service.

CITY NAVY MEN WIN PROMOTION

Three senior naval officers from Victoria are among those promoted to captain in the navy's half-yearly list, released by headquarters in Ottawa today.

They are: Capt. Robert P. Welland, who commanded the Royal Canadian Navy contingent at the Coronation; Capt. David W. Groos, director of officer personnel at Ottawa; and Capt. (S) Henry A. McCandless, command supply officer, Pacific Coast Command.

One new commodore was created in the half-yearly list. He is Ordnance Commodore W. G. Ross, Montreal, director general of naval ordnance.

Six other senior officers were promoted to captain: Capt. H. G. Burchell, who leaves his present post as deputy superintendent of HMC Dockyard at Esquimalt this week to go to headquarters as assistant chief

Crusader CO Promoted

CDR. J. H. G. BOVEY

Three-time member of the exclusive Korean "train-busters" club, HMCS Crusader will steam into her home harbor at Esquimalt at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The destroyer will berth in HMC Dockyard, and the gates will be opened to relatives and friends.

Naval officials expect a near record crowd to greet the ship when she arrives on the holiday.

Commanding officer of Crusader, J. H. G. Bovey, was promoted to commander in the half-yearly list announced today. He commanded the ship as she steamed 65,000 miles on Korean duty, after leaving here on May 25, 1952.

'CONDUCT AFFAIRS OPENLY'

LPP Link With Saboteurs Denied By Party Official

There may be trained saboteurs in Canada, Labor-Progressive Party leader Tom Seibert admitted here today. But he denied his party was behind any plot to import them.

He specifically denied remarks made by Progressive Conservative George Drew which implied, Mr. Seibert said, that the LPP had brought sabotage elements to Canada.

"While we do not deny that there are probably trained saboteurs in this country, the Labor-Progressive Party has nothing whatsoever to do with them," Mr. Seibert said.

"Our constitution would prohibit any such activity. Ours is a recognized political party which conducts its affairs openly."

Mr. Seibert said Mr. Drew's platform for dealing with Communists in Canada appeared to be "a system for instituting thought control."

"We feel Mr. Drew has little to offer the people of Canada when this is the sort of thing he produces," Mr. Seibert said.

Provincial LPP Leader Nigel Morgan will fire his party's opening gun in the federal election campaign at a public meeting in the Williams Building, 749 Broughton Street, Friday at 8 p.m.

The meeting also will nominate a candidate to contest the Victoria riding.

At least 22 candidates are expected to take part in a Social Credit nominating meeting for the federal election here, according to Oak Bay executive member Bob Fleming.

He warned "it might turn into a six-hour meeting."

The federal nominating meeting will be held at Victoria High School at 6 p.m., July 8.

Esquimalt-Saanich Social Credit will select a federal candidate at a meeting set for July 8 at Mount View High School.

Among names which are likely to go before the nominating convention are those of Lionel Speller, James Audain, Archie Beyerstein, L. Gibson and Herman Williams.

Chief Water Commissioner Ronald Upward of Greater Victoria water district warned, however, that water may be shut off from the area from 8 tonight to 8 Wednesday morning for further repairs.

"We would urge people of View Royal to fill bath tubs and other containers," he said.

"It was a pretty serious break—in one of the worst spots for us," he added. "We are operating at reduced capacity as we don't dare to operate on full pressure. It isn't safe."

An estimated 8,000,000 gallons of water deluged the area before emergency crews had the situation in check. The roadway was damaged; a lawn belonging to Graham Richardson was washed away, and several garages, basements and garages flooded.

Patron's Fall Costs Arena $792 in Suit

A judgment against the City of Victoria and Victoria Memorial Arena Commission for $792 has been handed down by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court here.

The judgment is made in favor of Mrs. Marian Edith Ashbury, Otter Point, who brought damage action because of a fall on the ice Jan. 19, 1952, while attending an Ice Cycles performance. She claimed arena people were negligent in arranging seats so that she was required to step on the ice to get to her place.

She sustained injuries to her head, left hand and shoulder and broke her glasses. The judge awarded $42 special damages and $750 general damages.

In his judgment, Mr. Justice Macfarlane determined the important question of whether the arena commission was an independent authority or merely an agent of the city.

STORM NEARS ON DISTRICT'S HOLIDAY EVE

The weatherman fought a battle with his conscience today and lost—making a prediction of clouds and showers for the Dominion Day holiday.

"I tried to say 'sunny' but couldn't do it," he said. "It appears that a storm wandering sort of aimlessly from the Gulf of Alaska will give us cloudy skies and a few showers. In fact, it's raining at Estevan now."

He said the morning might be fair, but that clear weather was difficult to time because of the indefinite movement of the storm.

Temperatures will be between 50 and 62 degrees, he said, and southwest winds of 15 miles per hour will reach 20 miles in the afternoon.

VICTORIA BUILDING BOOMING

Construction work in Victoria, with several new buildings and numerous major alteration jobs under way, has almost doubled in the first six months of 1953, compared with the same period last year.

Permits were issued by city building inspector's office for construction valued at $4,645,733 for the six months ending today. Figure for 1952 was $2,478,916.

In June alone, permits were issued for construction estimated at $677,703, while for June of last year construction was valued at $543,925.

City Building Inspector J. W. Oosterink believes the present high level of construction work will continue through next year, with the exception of the usual slow-up during the fall and bad weather months of winter.

"There are a lot of big store alterations, and new apartments as well as considerable house building," said Mr. Oosterink.

He felt it indicated steady growth of the city and healthy business conditions.

"The city is spreading out, and growth in construction is only to be expected," he said referring to the business district.

Large permits this month included $127,000 for renovation of the old Begg Building on Yates for the RCAF.

At least 22 candidates are expected to take part in a Social Credit nominating meeting for the federal election here, according to Oak Bay executive member Bob Fleming.

He warned "it might turn into a six-hour meeting."

The federal nominating meeting will be held at Victoria High School at 6 p.m., July 8.

Esquimalt-Saanich Social Credit will select a federal candidate at a meeting set for July 8 at Mount View High School.

Among names which are likely to go before the nominating convention are those of Lionel Speller, James Audain, Archie Beyerstein, L. Gibson and Herman Williams.

Sports Events Top Holiday List For Victoria's Dominion Day

All Vancouver Island will celebrate Dominion Day Wednesday, with entertainment fare to suit every taste scheduled all the way from Victoria to Courtenay and Port Alberni — weather permitting.

Major event for hundreds here will be the return of HMCS Crusader from Korea at 10 a.m.

Other hundreds have dates with certain fish in Saanich Inlet, Cowichan Bay, Esquimalt, and elsewhere, and will spend all day attempting to keep their appointments.

A fair round of events has been scheduled, starting with boat races at Willows Beach at 1:30 p.m., when local inboard and outboard pilots will compete. The outboard section will be especially interesting, with a number of new boats entered.

A collection will be taken in aid of the Cerebral Palsy Association.

Kiwanis and Rotary teams will meet in Little League baseball, also at 1:30, and in the Western International League the Tyees and Yakima Bears will start play in Athletic Park at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Auto races will get under way at Shearings Speedway, Cobble Hill, at 7:30.

Golfers will attend the first annual Cowichan open tournament at Cowichan Golf and Country Club, starting at 8 a.m. with an entry list of 60, including many of B.C.'s leading amateurs and professionals.

Sidney, Duncan, Ladysmith, Courtenay and Port Alberni have civic celebrations arranged for Dominion Day.

At Sidney the parade will start at 1 p.m., to be followed by a fire-fighting demonstration at Memorial Park and the crowning of Sidney Day Queen Joan Michell.

Pie-Eating Contest Sidney Feature

Sidney Rotary Club will sponsor the afternoon program of events, to include a broom ball game, pie-eating contest, horse shoe tournament, band music and drill team displays.

There will be evening softball games and a dance at night at the East Camp recreation hall, Patricia Bay airport.

Singing star Don Garrard of Vancouver will top-line afternoon and evening shows on the 125-foot outdoor stage at Duncan. Other turns will be a vaudeville show, folk dancing by national groups, and the Home-owners' orchestra of Victoria.

Duncan celebrants also will see a five-hour horse show, loggers' sports, boxing, wrestling and baseball, and can wind up the day's events with dancing on the newly-laid floor in the curling club arena.

"Princess" Rosemary McKinnell will be crowned at noon in front of the Ladysmith city hall to start the city's celebration. It will be followed by a parade at 1 p.m., loggers' sports and children's field sports at 2, softball finals at 6:30 for a $100 cash prize, and a closing dance at the agricultural hall.

The celebration will be sponsored by Ladysmith Lions Club. A parade, midway and children's sports will be among the attractions in Courtenay's celebration, that began Saturday night.

Chief attraction, however, will be finals in the $1,200 baseball tournament in which teams from Victoria to Campbell River took part.

A soap box derby, open to all Vancouver Island racers, will be held down Port Alberni's speedy Third Avenue course to start celebrations in the west coast city.

Victoria vaudeville stars will provide entertainment during the open-air program at Recreation Park in the afternoon and there will be dancing at night. Port Alberni Gyro Club is sponsor of the celebration.

Full Plan Sought For Development Of Topaz Park

A plan for future development of Topaz Park on Topaz Avenue, west of Quadra area, will be prepared by Parks Administrator W. H. Warren on request of City Council's parks committee.

Authority has been granted for a topographical survey of the park at an approximate cost of $300.

Victoria Amateur Baseball Association had requested construction of a temporary diamond at Topaz for use this year.

Mr. Warren, however, told the parks committee that completion of a temporary diamond in the southwest corner of the lower field in the park would cost $1,200 and would take six weeks.

He recommended that no action be taken for the present, but suggested that when the city demolishes the Topaz huts, one of the buildings be left standing and converted for park purposes.

Pack-Easy, Eye-Shading, Sun Stoppers Are New!

By PENNY SAVER

Why on earth would anyone want to buy a sun stopper? Me, I love the sun . . . I wouldn't stop it for anything! Would you? I guess there are some folks that aren't too keen on it though, or they wouldn't be selling sun stoppers. Okay, I'll tell you what they are . . . they're collapsible, wide-brimmed hats to protect your pretty eyes from glaring rays, thus preventing sunstroke. Not really a bad idea after all, I must admit! You merely pull the strings on the crown and the hat folds up so that it is easily carried. In brilliant stripes and polka dots, you may buy almost any color to match your own beach wear. Price $3.95.

A pageboy hairdo is difficult to set if you want it smooth and sleek like you see them in shampoo ads. Of course, if you use those fat metal curlers made especially for the purpose, it's a cinch! Try and get them though, you say? Well, believe it or not, after months of searching, I've finally found some. I'm sure I don't know why they should have been so hard to find, because they are just ordinary curlers, except that they make a particularly plump roll. They cost 35 cents for three curlers.

I'll never regret buying a spoon drip plate! Never! When stirring cooking foods have you ever put down the spoon in a hurry, and made a sticky mess of your stove top? Come on, admit it! I know you have. Now, if you get a plastic tray with three hollows for holding spoons, you'll have no more trouble. Made of plastic, it has a hole for hanging on the wall when not in use, and it costs a paltry 15 pennies! Well worth it, I'd say!

For smooth combination with your new cotton skirts, a sleeveless blouse is just the thing! In snowy white, they look so smart! Although all are sleeveless, there are several different ones from which to choose. Get one with a Peter Pan collar or maybe one with rolled lapels. Choose pearl or rhinestone buttons. Price tags on the blouses are $1.98.

Leason-Harvey Wedding Is Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Rita Barbara Leason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Leason, 1031 Clare Street, in a double-ring ceremony, exchanged marriage vows with Gordon Keith Harvey, son of Mr. James Harvey, 1036 Kings Road, and the late Mrs. Harvey, in St. John's Church Saturday evening, with Canon George Biddle officiating. Standard baskets of white, pink and deep rose gladioli and pink snapdragons decked the altar.

Guests were ushered to pews marked with pink roses and white ribbon by Herbert Leason, the bride's twin brother, and Fred Harvey, the groom's brother.

The bride's gown was fashioned with lace bodice featuring off-shoulder neckline, lily-point sleeves, and a lace peplum flaring at the front, gathered into a bustle at the back, and falling into a full-length train over the full white satin skirt. A tiara of stiffened lace and white flowers held her embroidered fingertip veil, and her jewelry was a seed pearl choker, gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations with roses knotted into the white satin streamers. She was given in marriage by her father.

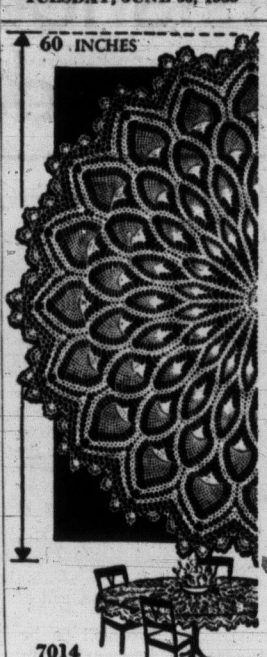

Her attendants were Mrs. Dalbert Schroyer, matron of honor; Mrs. James Lewis, bridesmaid; Miss Doreen Green of Vancouver, bridesmaid; and Miss Linda Gaunt, flower girl.

Ice blue taffeta fashioned the strapless gowns chosen by the senior attendants, with which they wore matching lace capes and elbow-length gloves and tiaras of blue flowers. Their colonial bouquets were of pale pink carnations and deeper pink gladioli with pink satin streamers.

The flower girl wore a pink net frock trimmed with blue rosebuds, with tiered, floor-length skirt. She had a blue flower tiara and a basket of pink and blue sweet peas with blue satin streamers.

Glen Bath was best man.

Christening at St. Matthew's

At a recent ceremony at St. Matthew's Church, Langford, Rev. H. J. Jones christened the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brothers, 3914 Winton Street. The three-month-old girl, wearing a robe of pure white silk and fine lace, received the names Lorraine Frances. Her godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wakeham, Vancouver, and Mrs. Kenneth Stephenson, Victoria.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Brothers entertained about 25 guests at their home. The tea table was laid with a hand-painted cloth centred with a bowl of red roses. Attending were the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Brothers, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. O. M. Wakeham, both of Victoria.

Friends Honor Nurse

Honoring Miss Margery Villers, RN, Mrs. William Blair, 1364 Hillside Avenue, entertained recently at a miscellaneous shower. Gifts were concealed beneath the white crinoline skirts of a bridal doll, and the honor guest was presented with a corsage of red roses. Her mother, Mrs. Walter E. Villers; the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. George Rumsby, and his grandmother, Mrs. F. Streeter, received Cecil Brunner roses, carnations and sweet peas on corsage. Super was served from a lace-covered table centred with white carnations and white stocks in a cut crystal bowl. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. W. E. Villers and Mrs. G. Rumsby. Invited guests were Mesdames W. Villers, G. Rumsby, F. Streeter, A. H. Dodd, George H. Streeter, W. R. Roskelley, J. # BETWEEN OURSELVES

Mrs. Wallace Has Happy Memories of Coronation

By ELIZABETH FORBES

A moment in the Coronation service in Westminster Abbey is the memory Mrs. Clarence Wallace will cherish most of all the many treasured experiences she has had during the past two months. . . . Experiences that she told me earnestly, as we sat in the white music room at "Devonia," the family home in Vancouver, yesterday afternoon, "can never be duplicated and will never be forgotten."

Out in the garden His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor was enjoying a swim in the big green and white tiled pool. A small granddaughter was dancing excitedly on the lawn.

But Mrs. Wallace sat quietly . . . and spoke softly. . . . She was tired from a long plane journey from Montreal to Vancouver on Sunday; a little disappointed that her baggage had been delayed and so, there were no pictures, invitations or programs to add to her story.

But for one hour she talked to this reporter (because I had flown from Victoria to listen) drawing on her memories and her impressions to recreate the days of the Coronation as she had seen them.

The moment in the Abbey she described as "almost unbelievable—but true!"

"We were seated in the nave, above the throne and facing the pews . . . a perfect position!"

"It was raining and dull all day . . . but during the ceremony the sun did break through . . . and just as the Queen was being crowned a ray of that sunshine poured in through one of the high windows of the Abbey . . . touched a corner of the pews' gallery . . . making their rich jeweled robes shimmer and sparkle . . . and then reached out to rest for a second . . . on the throne."

"All around the Abbey heads moved and we could faintly hear a whisper . . . like a faint echo, 'The sun . . . it's the sun!'"

"It was such a happy omen!" Mrs. Wallace concluded.

Sugar Tablets Only Food in Abbey

With others, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Wallace were in their places in the Abbey at 7.30 in the morning and did not leave until 4.15 in the afternoon.

"It didn't seem long," Mrs. Wallace remembers, "there was so much happening . . . We didn't carry any food . . . only a few glucose tablets . . . and yet, we were not hungry. I don't think we even remembered we were missing luncheon."

Mrs. Wallace tells us of the patience of the London Bobbies (police) "who never once lost their tempers" . . . of the taxi drivers, who handled terrific traffic problems and kept smiling . . . of the elevator operators who never forgot to say "thank you."

She talks of the flowers . . . in the parks . . . in the window boxes along the streets of London . . . even the florists displays. "We often speak of the Englishman and his love of flowers . . . you only needed to look along the streets of London to realize how true a saying it is!" she says.

And she remembers the crowds of people . . . "Masses and masses of them, as far as the eye could see," she says. "Always happy, always smiling! . . . even in the terrible weather."

There was the hall at Hampton Court just before the Coronation . . . "There could have been no more perfect setting than this ancient building, ablaze with lights . . . the reception rooms banked with masses of hydrangeas." . . . And a dinner at the House of Lords just before His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Wallace left for Canada . . . Field Marshal, Viscount Alexander of Tunis was host.

"It was the first dinner of men . . . and women . . . to be held within the House of Lords. Usually these things are on the terrace . . . but the weather was bad . . . and so, we were moved inside," Mrs. Wallace will tell you. "It added much to the brilliance of the scene!"

There was also the dinner-party at Buckingham Palace, where His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Wallace were guests.

"The Queen remembered Victoria," Mrs. Wallace said. "As I was presented Her Majesty remarked that it seemed a long time since her visit to Government House and that so much had happened since then."

Duchess Sends Robes to Canada

A dinner given by the Duke and Duchess of Westminster is another highlight. . . . "We were shown the robes the Duchess wore on the day of the Coronation . . . and were told they are to be sent on a tour of Canada very soon." . . . And there was the trouping of the colors when the young Prince Charles and Princess Anne were present.

"The little Princess is going to be a great beauty," Mrs. Wallace prophesies.

Even with the crowds of people in the streets, the lines of busses and taxi cabs that made it impossible on some occasions to move more than 14 blocks in two hours, when it was time to go to one or other of the many functions at which His Honor and Mrs. Wallace were guests, arrangements were made so there was no delay.

"Our car would be waiting, a special route marked, and we were speeded to our destination without any trouble," Mrs. Wallace explains, and then laughs as she adds, "occasionally the crowds would good-naturedly storm the car and peer in to see who was passing . . . and you might think you were going to be stopped . . . But we always got through . . . and on time!"

In speaking of the London crowds, Mrs. Wallace says that their loyalty to the Queen and to the Royal family is a tangible thing that can be felt in the air as well as seen in the faces.

"The Queen is loved by everyone!" Mrs. Wallace tells you. . . . "When she enters a room you hear an audible sigh of pure devotion as people curtsy . . . when she passes on the streets you hear the shouts of the people."

"Her Majesty seems to know this and it has done something to her. . . . She is poised . . . happy . . . and there is an inward radiance that draws you to her. . . . Wherever she goes she is loved!"

Bon Voyage Party

Misses Alice and Kathy Nuttall entertained recently at their home on Pine Street, with a bon voyage party to honor Miss Irene Trowsdale, who is leaving July 1 to represent Canada at the Coronation Commonwealth St. John Ambulance Cadet Camp at Ockendon, Essex, Eng. The honor guest, and her mother, Mrs. C. Trowsdale, were presented with corsages of pastel summer flowers. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table centred with white carnations and pink roses. Miss Trowsdale received many useful gifts for her trip.

Party for Patients

The lovely gardens of "Lochiel," Runnymede Avenue, home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, will be in fete Friday, when the Women's Auxiliary to Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society entertains patients with a garden party. Tea will be served on the lawn and a special program is being arranged which is expected to include dancing and musical selections. In the event of rain occurring on Friday, the party will be deferred to Saturday.

Ireland-Swainson Marriage Vows In Floral Setting

Baskets of mixed summer flowers decorated the altar of Church of Our Lord, Monday evening, when Aldyth May Ireland repeated wedding vows with Neil Alexander Swainson. Dr. J. G. Brown, assisted by Dr. W. G. Wilson performed the ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil S. Ireland, 3705 32nd Street, Vernon, B.C., with the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Swainson, 3082 Washington Avenue. J. Ingram Smith provided wedding music at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose Chantilly lace and nylon net over cream satin for her wedding gown. Her floor-length veil cascaded from a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white summer flowers.

Maid of honor, Miss Ellen Brown, wore a gown of turquoise net over taffeta with matching mitts and headress. She carried pink stocks, carnations and sweet peas in her bouquet.

H. Paul Smith, Parksville, was best man and ushers were Moir McLagan, Lawrence Wallace, Victoria, and James Ireland, Revelstoke.

Dr. Brown proposed the toast to the bride at the reception in Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

Coming out of town for the wedding were the bride's aunt, Miss Eva Ireland, Salmon Arm, B.C., Len Chapman, Vancouver, and Miss Eva Middleton, Alberni.

For traveling on a honeymoon Up-Island, the bride donned a yellow linen suit with white accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Swainson will make their home at 2636 Bowker Avenue, upon return to the city.

Mrs. Miriam White who has been lecturing on spiritualism throughout Canada since April, and has been a recent guest at Craigdarroch, Victoria, has left for her home at St. Alban's, Dorset, England.

Prepare Weaving Exhibit

A great revival of interest in hand weaving will focus attention over a wide area on the exhibition of the Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild which opens Thursday in the Empress Hotel and continues Friday and Saturday. Entries for this show have been received from several points across Canada. Miss Marjorie Hill, left, chairman of the standards committee which must pass on all work submitted, is here examining a fine piece of cloth while Mrs. H. R. Clarke, chairman of exhibition committee looks on.

Flying Home From Japan

Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, wife of His Excellency the Canadian Ambassador to Japan, is expected to fly from Tokyo this week, arriving in Vancouver on Saturday. She will spend the summer months in Victoria and at the Mayhew summer home at Shawinigan Lake. Miss Margaret Fletcher, who has been on a holiday trip in the Far East for the past two months, is accompanying Mrs. Mayhew from Tokyo.

Arriving next Tuesday from Oakville, Ont., is Mrs. Mayhew's daughter, Mrs. Alex Lawrason, and her children, to spend the summer with her mother here.

Shower for Mia Gabelman

Misses Shirley McDonald and Lenora Palmer were co-hostesses recently at a shower honoring Miss Mia Gabelman. The party was at the home of Miss McDonald, Portage Road. Gifts were contained in a decorated wishing well and corsages were presented to the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. H. Gabelman, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. R. B. Webb.

Guests included Mrs. George McDonald, Mr. B. F. McDonald, Mrs. L. Palmer, and Misses Lois McCall, Terry French, Ella Bruck, Joan Southwell, Mary Lou White, Geraldine Smith, Moira Burnett, Joan McDonald, Diane Hardy, Shirley McKenzie, Ann Jaymes, Beth Turner, Daphne Stansby, Pat Burnett and Pat Westwood.

Miss Kennedy Again Honor Guest

More than 150 present and past school associates of Miss Ethel Kennedy gathered to honor her at a presentation ceremony Friday night, on her retirement as caretaker of Victoria West School.

Former students, teachers and principals who have been associated with Miss Kennedy in her 25 years at the school attended. On their behalf, H. S. Hurn, director of community drama for the provincial government, presented the honor guest with a Bond Street handbag and cheque. Mr. Hurn was principal of Victoria West School when Miss Kennedy first took up duties there.

Charles Banfield, ex-alderman and unofficial "mayor of Victoria West," spoke briefly on the Kennedy family in Victoria West community and presented Miss Kennedy with an illuminated scroll from the community. Mrs. W. Jenkins, member of longest standing in Victoria West P.T.A. which sponsored the evening, presented the guest of honor with a corsage.

Taking part in a short entertainment program were Teddy and Patsy Conrad, who did Highland dancing, accompanied by piper Jamie Troy. They represented school students of the present.

Jack Carmichael, representing former students, played two piano selections.

Harry Downard, Victoria West principal, was master of ceremonies.

"Why yes, Mary. It's easy to tell it isn't powdered skim milk."

"I thought all powdered milks were the same."

"Oh, no. Borden's Klim has cream in it. You see, it's a pasteurized whole milk in powder form."

"Yes, but is it economical?"

"Heavens yes. Why, I pound makes over three quarts of good, rich whole milk, excellent for

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Hard Labors, Not Miracles Are Behind 'Miracle Drugs'

In the not-too-distant past strange herbs, crushed beetles and all sorts of loathsome mixtures were given to people who were ill. The cures were often considered "miraculous." Naturally, those who recovered were in a better position to boast of their cures than those who did not.

Actually, nature was doubtless responsible, both for the recoveries and the deaths. The

Victoria Tourist Folders on Show

Seizing an opportunity to tell international travelers about Victoria and Vancouver Island, Publicity Commissioner George I. Warren has placed 1,000 Victoria tourist folders in Canada's section of an international exhibit and "free customs zone" that occupies most of the main floor in San Francisco's Palace Hotel.

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau official learned of the exhibit last week while motoring as far south as San Jose, Cal., inspecting "Follow the Birds to Victoria" billboards and arranging new contracts. He returned this forenoon.

New York Writer To Visit Victoria

Herbert Matthews, editor-in-charge of Canadian affairs for the New York Times, will pay a visit to Victoria in the course of a fact-finding western Canadian tour.

Ray Lawson, Canadian consul-general at New York, wrote Mayor Claude Harrison Monday asking if someone could provide Mr. Matthews with up-to-date information on this area when he arrives.

Mr. Matthews will do a series of feature articles on Canada. Dates of his stay in Victoria are not yet known.

PICNIC POSTPONED

Wet weather brought postponement of the annual picnic of the local branch, Canadian Authors' Association, which was to have been held Saturday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Roe, 2547 Killarney Street. The event has been rescheduled for next Saturday, at 2 p.m.

HOME GARDEN

There is almost as much art in the gathering of fruits and vegetables for table use as there is in growing them.

It takes a year or two of practical experience before a confirmed city dweller realizes that there are several stages in the edible life of most vegetables.

For instance, potatoes are delicious, in small doses, when the size of golf balls. They vary in their food value from that stage until, by mid-winter, they are fully matured in storage. Carrots may be pulled during the thinning process when finger size. Eaten raw or lightly cooked they are a welcome contrast to the green vegetables of early summer.

Carrots may be used right through the season until they mature for storage. Beets are one of the really versatile foods—the whole plant at thinning time may be cooked and eaten. The leaves have far more flavor and contain more minerals, I understand, than spinach. The tiny beets may be cooked for the same few minutes as the leaves.

To find out whether peas are ready for picking, take off a pod or two and open them. The pods do not need to be stuffed tight to have the peas edible. Picked, shelled and dropped into boiling water to barely cover them; boiled gently for eight-10 minutes—a half hour from vine to table—those are peas at their best.

Young vegetables such as described above do not have the keeping quality of more mature crops. Hence, they can never be bought in the stores. This is one way in which a gardener benefits from his produce.

When it comes to fruit picking—practically the opposite rules are applied. Fruit, especially the bush and vine crops of early summer, need to be fully ripe for finest flavor. Currants and gooseberries are a little difficult to judge, since they are usually picked with stem attached, but aroma helps to decide.

The bush and bramble fruits, including strawberries, logans and raspberries, are at their best when they come freely from the stem into the hand. Fully ripe but not squishy, flavor is at its peak in late afternoon, just right for supper hour desserts.

When painting brick surfaces outdoors it is well to remember that the first coat needs more paint. One gallon of exterior oil paint will cover about 200 square feet of surface the first time. The second coat needs only a half gallon to cover the same area.

Scottish Games Prize List

A total of 22 trophies will be awarded and more than $500 in cash prizes distributed at the 16th annual Scottish Games, July 18, at Macdonald Park. Events range from piping and dancing to tossing the caber and track and field competitions. No entries will be accepted on the field, but official entry forms can be obtained from N. Macleod, 1751 Hampshire Road, not later than July 11.

All-Day Parking Ban Advocated

A ban on all-day parking on streets throughout Victoria was advocated Monday by P. C. Shaw, 837 Burdett Avenue, in a letter to Mayor Claude Harrison. He also urged "much more rigid inspection of meters" and enforcement of regulations to prevent "the feeding-the-meter sort of individual."

Mr. Shaw contended that in parts of the city, visitors could not call on their friends and find parking space for "even a few minutes."

C (To put in time)

(OSCAR CLASS) "PETER PAN" (Capitol)—It is unlikely that you will ever see a finer interpretation of Sir James M. Barrie's Play, "Peter Pan," than this animated cartoon, product of the Walt Disney studios.

Simply, it is genius. "Peter Pan" is Disney at his best. The Scottish playwright's characters live possibly in this medium better than any other. In Technicolor, in muted tones, in sometimes frightening shadows, Disney portrays the story of Wendy, the little English girl who does not wish to grow up.

Disney's Wendy is a winsome miss, exactly as a little girl called Wendy should look. His Peter Pan, with the voice of Bobby Driscoll, is just as one always imagined Peter Pan to look. And who could appear more evil and diabolical than Captain Hook, or as funny as the wine-guzzling smee? Then there is the vengeful crocodile, the Lost Boys, the Redmen's Indian Village. And who will ever forget that smart dart of light, now endowed with form, Tinker Bell?

This is Disney back into the field that made him famous through his Mickey and Minnie Mouse, through rambling Donald Duck, Goofy, Pluto and others of his fabulously enchanting "beliefs" who have come to make our world a finer, richer place to live for the laughter and forgetfulness they have bequeathed us.

Again Disney has given us a full-length cartoon play that can hold the attention of all of us. Surely he who cannot be enchanted by the greatness of this dreaming on celluloid has lost something or, even worst to think of, never had it.

No watered-down fairy tale, this. This is a roaring, roistering, ludicrous earthy comedy, designed to enthrall young and old. My only suggestion is that if the child is very young—of the nightmare age—it would be best first to explain to the child that "it's all in fun—just make-believe." Otherwise there are one or two scenes that could easily frighten them. This would be a pity because nine-tenths of it is not scary at all.

Musical scores by Oliver Wallace and songs by Sammy Fain, Erdman Penner, Ted Sears, Sammy Cahn, Frank Churchill and Winston Hibler are all excellent.

However, I may be wrong, but I doubt if the music will have the over-all popularity of Disney's "Snow White," with such popular melodies as "Someday My Prince Will Come," and "Whistle While You Work."

In conclusion: Comparisons are odious. But in my opinion "Peter Pan" is Disney's greatest work since "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." In its own way it may be equally as great.

ISLAND JUNK - WE WANT YOUR FURNITURE, etc. from useful things $50.00 Town country

NEARLY EVERYONE HAS SOMETHING they would like to sell. You know, for if you can list whatever you may have for sale in the Victoria Centre, so that anyone wishing to buy, can phone and get the full particulars, description, price, etc., and then, when you are ready to sell, you can sell it right there. Remember that it will keep your listing on file for 30 days. If you have questions you would like to ask, please phone 2414 or call into the Shopping Centre at 633-A Johnson Street.

Four City Motorists Injured in Accidents

by James Sands, 1224 Richard-son, spun in gravel on Sooke Road Saturday night near Colwood Corner, careened across the road, then rolled over twice.

Mrs. Sands was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment of minor injuries, and her condition was reported Monday as good. Mr. Sands suffered only bruises. Police said the car was badly damaged.

The injured couple had been celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary the day of the accident.

Two persons, Roderick Arthur Bolt, 410 Craigflower, and Mrs. D. Pollock, 557 Head Street, were taken to hospital Sunday night when a car driven by Mr. Bolt struck a parked car on Tillam Road Sunday night.

The parked car is owned by Raymond Fortin, RCN officer. Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $200.

Saanich Council Members Will Seek To Collect Debt

Two members of Saanich council were named Monday night to assume the role of municipal bill collectors.

The Saanich council discussed at length a $983 debt outstanding against its neighbor, Central Saanich. It was decided that in view of the attitude already expressed by Central Saanich council that only two courses of action were open: court action, or a friendly visit.

Council decided on the latter course and appointed Councilors R. H. Wooten and G. Stanley Eden to visit the Central Saanich officers and remind them of their "honorable debt."

The debt was incurred after Central Saanich seceded from Saanich. Through a mistake, Saanich continued to pay a social assistance allowance which should have been borne by the new municipality.

'Y' Tourists Make Hurried Mexican Exit

The YMCA tour party which set out for Mexico two weeks ago arrived home Sunday.

The two bus loads of happy holidaymakers got to Mexico all right but stayed only 20 minutes.

"We have the distinction of having taken the first Canadian buses onto Mexican soil," Bob Morrison, YMCA program secretary, who headed the party, reported Monday.

"But we had just got across the border when we were stopped by representatives of a Mexican transit company who said we couldn't go any further."

The transit officials were waiting for the two Victoria buses carrying the 56 sightseers. They stopped the buses just as soon as the two vehicles had been given clearance by Mexican customs men at Tijuana.

"Apparently this company has the exclusive franchise to operate buses in Mexico."

"They wanted us to park our buses and use one of theirs. But they were going to charge us $260 just to go 86 miles; so after some argument we said to heck with Mexico."

That didn't please the Mexicans either. Some of them chased the buses yelling and shouting, as it recrossed the border and entered the United States.

Other long stops were made at San Francisco and Las Vegas, Nevada.

Berry Growers Expect Better Crop Returns

B.C. berry farmers are getting slightly better prices on the Prairies than last year due to reduced crops.

Local prices on the other hand are lower than last year. Local growers have shipped 32 carloads to the Prairies, J. J. Young of the Saanich Fruit Growers Association, reports.

The crop locally is "good," Young said. Growers expect to produce about 40,000 crates. Meanwhile, the loganberry crop is coming along well. Local growers expect a good year, Mr. Young says. They expect to ship about 9,000 crates.

Demand for jam berries is particularly strong. Vancouver takes the greatest bulk of the jam berries and prices for strawberries for jam are expected to average 15 cents a pound. Some will be shipped to American points.

Pavlukoff Lawyer Makes Appeal

VANCOUVER (CP)—Counsel for a convicted murderer contended before the Court of Appeal Monday that trial judge Mr. Justice A. M. Manson "conveyed to the jury his unbecoming opinion of the guilt of the accused."

Counsel Thomas Hurley made the charge in an amended plea for appeal in the case of Walter Pavlukoff, sentenced by Mr. Justice Manson to die July 25 for the murder of Sydney Petrie, bank manager, during a hold-up in August, 1947.

Chief Justice Gordon Sloan immediately adjourned the court to get a report from Justice Manson.

Earlier reports had said Tenzing would not visit Britain because of the argument over which climber actually reached the 29,002-foot summit first—Tenzing or Hillary.

He said Monday that if he did not fly to London with the others "I would be falling in my duty."

Earlier reports had said Tenzing would not visit Britain because of the argument over which climber actually reached the 29,002-foot summit first—Tenzing or Hillary.

Roadside Spraying Protest Supported

Mayor Claude Harrison's protests about provincial government methods of spraying roadside vegetation to kill weeds won support Monday from Mollie E. Morant of Metcrosin.

In a letter to the mayor she said the "abominable method" of spraying was useless.

Of Quarantine Road she said: "One day it was more beautiful than many gardens; the next,

Skilled telephone men have recently completed installation of more than $130,000 worth of complex automatic equipment in the Victoria telephone exchange on Blanshard Street. This equipment will be used to supply telephone service to many on the waiting list in the Victoria exchange area.

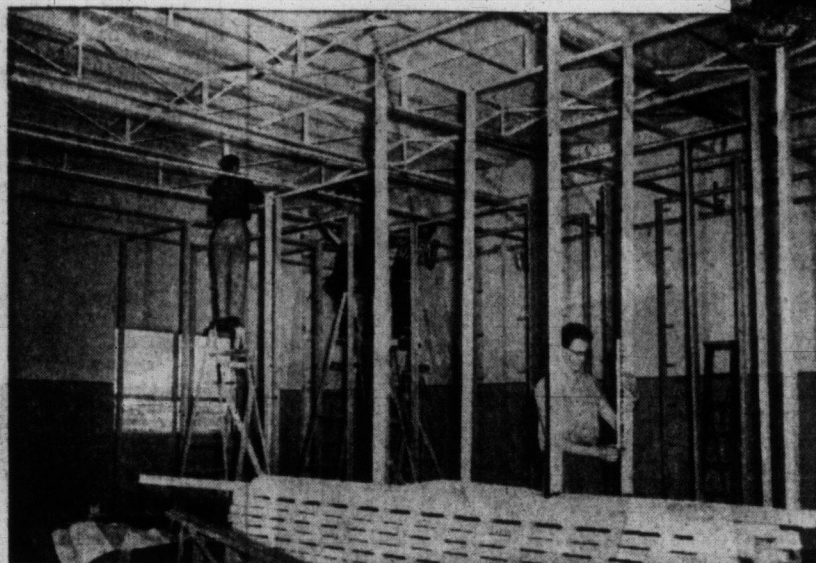

Meanwhile, other crews have started on a large program of outside construction. More than 15,000 miles of wire in cable—enough to span the continent five times—is being placed at a cost of more than $440,000. This cable will provide talking circuits between outlying exchanges and Victoria, as well as bring local service to many who are now waiting.

Work has started on the installation of automatic equipment in the new Albion, Belmont and Colquitz exchanges. When completed, these installations will give subscribers free calling between Albion, Belmont, Colquitz and Victoria. The picture shows work underway at Albion exchange.

EDEN RESTS AT NEWPORT; CHURCHILL ENTERTAINS

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden and his wife settled on a private estate facing Newport Harbor today hopeful of a quiet convalescence from his recent operation.

The 56-year-old British diplomat, appearing much healthier than on his arrival from England three and a half weeks ago, left the New England Baptist hospital in Boston Monday. He underwent an operation June 10 to clear a bile duct obstruction.

Dr. Richard Cattell, the diplomat's surgeon, said in a bulletin "we are convinced that after a full period of convalescence a complete recovery can be assured."

Meanwhile, London reported that Prime Minister Churchill, 78, resting on doctor's orders from the strain of overwork, was host at a small luncheon party again today at his estate at Chartwell, Kent.

Almost every day since last week-end, when he finally bowed to medical advice to take a month's rest, he has entertained at lunch or dinner. (See "Big Three Envoys," page 2.)

Germans Turn Against Reds

Communists Promise Speedy Trial, Severe Punishment for Captives

By JOSEPH FLEMING

BERLIN (UP)—Flames in the coalfields and screaming women in the cities of Red Germany signaled a new upsurge of anti-Communist rebellion today in defiance of Russian bayonets and Communist promises.

The Communist dragnet hauled in thousands of Germans, increasing total arrests in the two-week revolt to more than 50,000, and the Reds promised "speedy trial" and severe punishment of their captives.

The West Berlin newspaper Nacht Depesche reported that widespread uprisings exploded in the German area east of the Oder and Neisse Rivers, now held by Poland, on June 17 and that unrest continued.

Nacht Depesche said workers clashed with Polish and Soviet troops in at least six cities, stormed food stores and demanded the overthrow of the Red regime. The main Berlin-Warsaw railroad was cut in several places, the newspaper said.

In East Germany proper, the alternate toughness and softness with which the Communists tried to quiet the people failed.

A large part of Saxony-Anhalt province's coal fields were reported in flames, while workers throughout Soviet Germany were walking off the job and wrecking industrial machinery.

In the big cities of the Soviet zone, mobs of housewives were gathering outside government buildings to protest the recent breakdown in the Red supply system, screaming:

"We want bread for our children!"

FOOD CRITICAL

The food situation in Red Germany has grown critical during the two weeks since revolt flared in Soviet Berlin and spread across the zone.

Last week, an East Berliner's ration card entitled him to only a quarter-pound of meat, an approximately equal amount of bread, and—if he was lucky—two pounds of fish. Many grocers could offer only about two ounces of jam in place of the fish ration.

REVOLT CALL BUDAPEST CLAIM

LONDON (AP)—Budapest radio said a foreign plane—identified—flew over Hungary today dropping leaflets calling upon the people to revolt.

The Communist broadcast said the "appeal was in stupid and coarse language."

"Only the enemies of our independence and of our country could provoke such a disgusting affair," the radio said.

120-Mile Typhoon New Japan Threat

Kyushu Island Counts 2,000 Casualties As Plans Made to Fight Fresh Storms

TOKYO (UP)—A 120-mile-an-hour typhoon churned across the south Pacific toward Japan today, bringing the threat of new storm and flood damage to battered Kyushu Island, where torrential rains over the week-end caused more than 2,000 casualties.

Latest tabulations place the number of flood victims at 2,134—475 dead, 974 injured and 687 missing. More than 1,000,000 Japanese were driven from their homes.

No American casualties were reported, but late reports said the United States Tomino ammunition depot, near Kokura, was "seriously damaged" by the floods. Servicemen's families have been evacuated from the area.

The sun broke through the clouds over Kyushu Monday for the first time in five days, and U.S. servicemen helped clear away damage and batten down against the threat of new storms.

Lieut. Gen. Paul W. Kendall, deputy U.S. army commander in the Far East, flew from Tokyo to take charge of disaster relief operations, and American army units were directed to do everything they can for flood sufferers.

South Korean Envoy Invites U.S. to Withdraw From War

Truce Talks Said 'Doubly' Deadlocked

By ERNEST HOBRECHT

SEOUL, Korea (Wednesday UP)—South Korean leaders turned against President Eisenhower's special trouble-shooting envoy today and one of them invited the United States to pull its troops out of Korea if it wanted to.

The truce talks were doubly deadlocked. The Communists indicated clearly they would not accept Gen. Mark W. Clark's call for an armistice with or without the support of South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

It was made clear also that the talks between Rhee and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, the trouble-shooter Mr. Eisenhower sent here to induce Rhee to accept the armistice, had bogged down.

There were open hints in high Korean quarters that Robertson lacked authority.

"Too many things are being referred back to Washington," one official said.

"South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said in an exclusive interview with this correspondent:

"Some persons believe the

which makes up two-thirds of the United Nations' battline, was reported ready to join the defense minister in resigning.

Many observers who considered Shin completely loyal to the stubborn Rhee voiced surprise at the defense minister's sudden resignation.

South Korean and United Nations sources said he probably quit because he could not agree with Rhee on the ability of the ROK army to keep fighting after an armistice.

Paik, reported in disfavor with Rhee, also has opposed some of the president's actions to block a truce.

Radio Pyongyang, the voice of North Korea, said Clark's offer to sign an armistice without strong assurances of South Korean participation showed "no sincere desire for an armistice."

The Pyongyang broadcast was not considered an official rejection of Clark's note delivered to the Communists at Panmunjom, but it was considered a reflection of the Communist attitude.

He denied there was a rift between himself and Rhee, even though he has been lukewarm in supporting the 78-year-old president's truce-wrecking policies.

Leroy Hansen, United Press correspondent covering truce talks at Panmunjom, told Shin some allied newsmen were speculating his resignation was brought on by differences with Rhee.

"I suppose some friendly foreigners know there must be some reason," Shin replied.

It was believed Shin, one of the most conscientious South Korean officials, decided to quit when he realized he could not continue to exert his full abilities for a government whose policies he opposes.

When Hansen asked him whether those differences in opinion still existed, he replied: "You'd better say that."

The government refused to confirm reports that home minister Chin Hun Shik's job also was in jeopardy.

B.C. Pilot Shares In Blow at Red Migs

SEOUL, Korea (BUP)—Allied Sabrejet pilots, including an RCAF squadron leader, shot down 15 Mig today to deal Communist air prestige its worst blow since the Korean war began three years ago.

SL John McKay of New Westminster, B.C., one of 20 RCAF pilots who have been attached to combat units of the U.S. Air Force, scored his first Mig kill in a high-altitude aerial duel in the afternoon.

The previous record of 13 kills in one day was set on July 4, 1952, and equaled on Sept. 4 and Dec. 12.

McKay's kill was No. 9 for Canadian pilots assigned to Korea's "Mig Alley" war. The ace of the RCAF contingent is Flt. Lieut. Ernest A. Glover of Leaside, Ont., who shot down three enemy planes and damaged two others before he completed his 50-mission tour.

Five famous Korean jet aces led the Sabres into the most glorious day of their history. And from the blazing air duels, another ace, America's 36th, emerged. Lt. Henry Buttman of New York, downed his fifth Mig in 12 days.

Cigar-chomping Major James Jabara of Wichita, Kan., history's first jet ace now on his second tour of duty, bagged his 13th and 14th to take the lead again and pull to within two kills of the record set by Capt. Joseph McConnell of Apple Valley, Calif., now in the United States.

Jabara knocked his 13th Mig out of the North Korean skies in the morning, when nine of the Red jets were downed, and got the other in the afternoon, when the Sabres destroyed five more.

The previous record of 13 kills in one day was set on July 4, 1952, and equaled in September 4 and December 12.

Today's air battles brought the new monthly record to 74 Migs destroyed, eight probably destroyed and 34 damaged.

Vote-Counting Resumes in B.C.'s Marathon Election

Candidates, scrutineers and counters crowded into Victoria Returning Officer Alan Macfarlane's headquarters at 911 Government Street today as the "wait it out" period broke in B.C.'s second election

WIRE BRIEFS

1 Dead, 2 Injured In Plane Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One man was killed and two escaped with minor injuries in the crash of a Western Air Lines DC-3 transport plane as it was taking off for a test flight at Los Angeles international airport Monday.

Joseph Stromsky, 24, Inglewood, Calif., an inspector, was burned to death. Airline officials said the plane had been overhauled and was being taken aloft for a check-up.

Bread Hike Inquiry

VANCOUVER (BUP)—City Council has decided to make a thorough investigation into a one-cent jump in the price of bread, to 15 cents.

Manitoba Jurist Dead

DAUPHIN, Man. (CP)—Jaroslav William Arsenych, 69, first Canadian of Ukrainian origin to be appointed to the bench, died Monday in Dauphin after a brief illness.

Suspects Cleared

VANCOUVER (CP)—Burnaby RCMP today reported that four motorists they interviewed in connection with the Loughheed Highway hijacking Thursday of a truck loaded with produce from the strike-bound Slade & Stewart warehouse have been cleared of suspicion.

Contract Awarded

VANCOUVER (CP)—Contract for construction of Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's television transmitter building at 2,700-foot level on Mount Seymour has been awarded to Bennett & White Construction Company, it was announced today.

Saskatchewan's Own Bus Company Tied Up By Strike

REGINA (CP)—Operations of the province's biggest highway bus company were halted today when some 220 employees of the government-owned Saskatchewan Transportation Company went out on strike at 6 a.m.

The employees, members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America AFL-TLC, took the action after negotiations between their union officials and the company, headed by Highways Minister J. H. Douglas, broke down Saturday.

Pickets took over at bus depots throughout the province, from the United States border north to Lac la Ronge, 150 miles north of Prince Albert.

The STC operates buses on designated routes in Saskatchewan. It does not provide bus service in cities or towns, whose own transit facilities are unaffected.

Vote Counting Resumes in B.C.

Gunderson, Gibbs Continue Fight In Oak Bay, 100-Vote Difference

Social Credit Finance Minister Einar Gunderson and Liberal Reeve P. A. Gibbs continued to stage a neck-and-neck battle in Oak Bay today as counting resumed in Counting of absentee votes this morning showed Mr. Gunderson received 77 votes and Reeve Gibbs 76.

The Sacred is now 100 votes ahead of the Liberal, instead of the 99 he led by on election night.

Here are the new totals: Mr. Gunderson 3,280; Mr. Gibbs 3,180; PC Deane Finlayson 1,224, and CCF Fred Bevis 509.

The important second count started at 1 p.m. with CCF second choices being distributed among the remaining candidates.

Counting of ballots got under way again in B.C.'s 41 ridings (48 seats) at 9 a.m. today after a three-week "waiting it out" period for politicians and voters.

The wait is required under the alternative voting law to allow time for absentee ballots to return to their home ridings.

Up to press time, there had been no appreciable change in the election picture.

BEST CHANCE

Premier W. A. C. Bennett's Social Credit party still appeared to have the best chance of forming a majority government.

The only second count completed was in Alberni, and it still left the result indecisive in the West Coast riding.

LLP candidate Frank Bottner was dropped from the contest, and his voters' second choices went mostly to the CCF. CCF'er John Squire picked up 53 of them, Liberal Mayor Loran K. Jordan 34, Sacred Thor Peterson 9, and PC Oliver Rutland 7. Total of 52 were exhausted.

New totals: CCF'er John Squire, 3,178; Liberal Jordan, 2,038; Sacred Peterson, 1,646, and PC Rutland, 328.

Only other results came from Burnaby where veteran Socialist E. E. Winch is increasing his lead over his nearest rival, Sacred Ernest Crampson. He fell just short of a first count victory election night.

Election officials indicated it will be a week before final results are known, but they expect a definite trend to be established tonight or Wednesday.

In last June's long count, the first time B.C. used the alternative voting system, it took 28 days before the final result was known in all ridings.

But it was 50 days before the new government was sworn into office. The extra delay was caused by legal battles over recounts in Vancouver ridings.

28 ON TEAM

Victoria Returning Officer Alan B. Macfarlane swung his 28-man counting team into action at 8:30 a.m., half an hour

NO TIMES ON DOMINION DAY

Laniel Wins First Test In Assembly

PARIS (UP)—New Premier Joseph Laniel won an overwhelming vote of confidence in the National Assembly today for his 22-man right-of-centre cabinet.

He started to work at once on the most urgent of his many problems—the national finances and preparations for a Big Three foreign ministers meeting in Washington.

On Friday he will face the first controversial debate in the assembly, involving the black market currency scandal in Indochina.

Next Tuesday debate will be opened on the financial situation.

Laniel won the vote of confidence for his cabinet when deputies demanded immediate debate on several issues. Laniel objected, and the vote supporting him constituted a vote of confidence in his new cabinet.

Premier Bennett's party leads the pack with three members elected on the first count, and a fourth a certainty, and 26 leading.

The CCF has elected two and leads in 15. Labor leads in one.

The Liberals and Progressive Conservatives are trailing. None has been elected, and none is leading.

ENGLAND REMEMBERS YOUNG U.S. HERO

Town Turns Out for Wedding

HUNSTANTON, Eng. (AP)—This Norfolk seaside resort had its own wedding-of-the-year today, and it took the bridal couple, young Americans, to its heart.

The bridegroom was Reis Leming, U.S. Air Force corporal of Toppensh, Wash., 22-year-old hero of the flood which devastated this community last February. The bride was Mary Joan Ramsay, 21.

On the night of the flood Leming, stationed at the nearby U.S. air base at Sculthorpe, plunged into the swirling water pushing a rubber boat. In three perilous expeditions he saved the lives of 27 persons, mostly women and children. Afterwards he collapsed.

The Queen recognized the young airman's gallantry by awarding him the George Medal.

Then Hunstanton heard about the girl Leming had left in Washington, and everyone from the mayor down to the humblest of the 4,500 townspeople insisted that their marriage had to take place here.

All the way from Washington Mary Joan, travelling with her mother, brought the wedding gown of white chintilly lace.

She wore a coronet of orange blossoms over her nut brown hair.

The wedding at the little Roman Catholic Church was a "good-natured mob scene."

The mayor and other government officials were there. So were many American soldiers, and some of the persons whose lives had been saved by the corporal.

Only a fraction of the persons who wanted to attend could get into the church, so they hung around outside. The town gave Leming and his bride a set of Douillon china, and the women pooled their skill to bake a three-tiered cake of heroic proportions.

The hilltop church is about a mile from the spot where Leming—who can't swim a stroke—rescued the flood victims.

Mister Scott is like the other Scot who wuz allowed t' bring his bagpipes into church, but "one too an' yer oot."

Th' Germans seem t' be doin' their second count too, but th' hard way.

Thet Kiwanis Village is a fine place fer ol' folks, as Mister Drew sez—but it ain't no better than th' Senate.

Everest Climbers' Return Delayed

NEW DELHI (CP)—Sir Edmund Hillary, who reached the summit of Mount Everest with Tenzing, the Sherpa tribesman, was confined to his bed here today with an attack of dysentery.

His doctor said the illness would prevent his leaving here with the rest of the British Everest expedition Wednesday on their return by air to Britain.

$10,000,000 Oil Refinery for B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Plans to start immediate construction of a $10,000,000 refinery near its present plant at nearby Burrard Inlet were announced today by Ralph D. Baker, president of Standard Oil Company of British Columbia.

Mr. Baker said the refinery, to be linked with the Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company's Burnaby terminal by a five-mile feeder, will be able to handle 11,000 barrels a day after construction is finished in late 1954.

'High Wind' Causes Heavy Damage

CALGARY (CP)—A strong wind, described as a small tornado, struck the farm of Russel Evans, six miles west of DeWinton, Alta., ripping off the barn roof and tossing wagons about like matchwood.

The Calgary weather office would not confirm the fact that the damage, estimated at about $2,000, was caused by a tornado. Officials said it was more than likely "a very high wind."

B.C. Shipping Merger Announced

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four British Columbia coastal shipping companies operating freight and passenger services as far north as Stewart Island, have combined operations.

Companies involved are Gulf Lines Ltd., Marine Express Lines Ltd., Davidson Marine Ltd. and General Sea Transportation Ltd.

The firms will now operate under the name of Tide-water Shipping Co. Five ships are involved.

New Defiance By Germans Against Reds

50,000 Arrested In Russian Dragnet

By JOSEPH FLEMING

BERLIN (UP)—Flames in the coalfields and screaming women in the cities of Red Germany signaled a new upsurge of anti-Communist rebellion today in defiance of Russian bayonets and Communist promises.

The Communist dragnet hauled in thousands of Germans, increasing total arrests in the two-week revolt to more than 50,000, and the Reds promised "speedy trial" and severe punishment of their captives.

The West Berlin newspaper Nacht Depeshe reported that widespread uprisings exploded in the German area east of the Oder and Neisse Rivers, now held by Poland, on June 17 and that unrest continued.

Nacht Depeshe said workers clashed with Polish and Soviet troops in at least six cities, stormed food stores and demanded the overthrow of the Red regime. The main Berlin-Warsaw railroad was cut in several places, the newspaper said.

In East Germany proper, the alternate toughness and softness with which the Communists tried to quiet the people failed.

A large part of Saxony-Anhalt province's coal fields were reported in flames, while workers throughout Soviet Germany were walking off the job and wrecking industrial machinery.

In the big cities of the Soviet zone, mobs of housewives were gathering outside government buildings to protest the recent breakdown in the Red supply system, screaming:

"We want bread for our children!"

FOOD CRITICAL

The food situation in Red Germany has grown critical during the two weeks since revolt flared in Soviet Berlin and spread across the zone.

Last week, an East Berliner's ration card entitled him to only a quarter-pound of meat, an approximately equal amount of bread, and—if he was lucky—two pounds of fish. Many grocers could offer only about two ounces of jam in place of the fish ration.

South Korean Invites U.S. Withdraw Troops

Truce Talks Said Doubly Deadlocked; Parley Between Rhee-Robertson Stymied

By ERNEST HOBRECHT

SEOUL, Korea (Wednesday UP)—South Korean leaders turned against President Eisenhower's special trouble-shooting envoy today and one of them invited the United States to pull its troops out of Korea if it wanted to.

The truce talks were doubly deadlocked. The Communists indicated clearly they would not accept Gen. Mark W. Clark's call for an armistice with or without the support of South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

It was made clear also that the talks between Rhee and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, the trouble-shooter Mr. Eisenhower sent here to induce Rhee to accept the armistice, had bogged down.

There were open hints in high Korean quarters that Robertson lacked authority.

"Too many things are being referred back to Washington," one official said.

South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tak said in an exclusive interview with this correspondent:

"Some persons believe the United States perhaps regrets its original decision to come into Korea. If that is so, and if the United States wants to withdraw, it should say so openly and should not try to cover up its motives by giving other reasons for its plans."

Radio Pyongyang, North Korea's mouthpiece, called Clark's request for a resumption of negotiations insincere, and one of the Communist news agencies blamed Clark for Rhee's release of North Korean prisoners.

Rhee, unable to win approval from President Eisenhower's emissary on his demands for mutual security and a time limit on political conferences after Armistice Day, found his policies growing increasingly unpopular at home.

Shin Tae Yung, his defense minister, resigned under the pretext that he could not serve Rhee competently in dealing with foreigners in Korea because he could not understand English.

Shin Denies Rift With Rhee

He denied there was a rift between himself and Rhee, even though he has been lukewarm in supporting the 78-year-old president's truce-wrecking policies.

Leroy Hansen, United Press correspondent covering truce talks at Panmunjom, told Shin some allied newsmen were speculating his resignation was brought on by differences with Rhee.

"I suppose some friendly foreigners know there must be some reason," Shin replied.

It was believed Shin, one of the most conscientious South Korean officials, decided to quit when he realized he could not continue to exert his full abilities for a government whose policies he opposes.

When Hansen asked him whether those differences in opinion still existed, he replied: "You'd better say that."

The government refused to confirm reports that home minister Chin Hun Shik's job also was in jeopardy.

Four American Women in Semis Of British Tennis

WIMBLEDON (AP)—An all-American women's final was set up for the eighth straight year at Wimbledon when defending champion Maureen Connolly and three other Americans won semi-final berths today in the all-England lawn tennis championships.

Little Mo trounced Mrs. Erika Volmer of Germany, 6-3, 6-0, after victories had been scored by Doris Hart, Shirley Fry and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode.

Miss Fry ousted Julie Sampson, Pasadena, Calif., 6-4, 6-2; Miss Hart edged Mrs. Suzi Koermoczi, Hungary, 7-5, 7-5, after fighting off set points in both sets, and Mrs. Knode eliminated Angela Mortimer, British Wimbledon Cup player, 6-4, 6-3.

Top-seeded Maureen will meet third-seeded Miss Fry in one semi-final, and second-ranked Miss Hart will face fourth-ranked Mrs. Knode in the other. Americans have won the British title nine straight times and two Americans have battled it out in the finals seven years in a row. There hasn't been a British winner since Dorothy Round won in 1937.

England Remembers Young U.S. Hero

HUNSTANTON, Eng. (AP)—This Norfolk seaside resort had its own wedding-of-the-day today, and it took the bride couple, young Americans, to its heart.

The bridegroom was Reis Leming, U.S. Air Force corporal of Toppenish, Wash., 22-year-old hero of the flood today-hopeful of a quiet convalescence from his recent operation.

The 56-year-old British diplomat, appearing much healthier than on his arrival from England three and a half weeks ago, left the New England Baptist hospital in Boston Monday. He underwent an operation June 10 to clear a bile duct obstruction.

Dr. Richard Cartell, the diplomat's surgeon, said in a bulletin "we are convinced that after a full period of convalescence a complete recovery can be assured."

Meanwhile, London reported that Prime Minister Churchill, 78, resting on doctor's orders from the strain of overwork, was host at a small luncheon party again today at his estate at Chartwell, Kent.

Almost every day since last week-end, when he finally bowed to medical advice to take a month's rest, he has entertained at lunch or dinner. (See "Big Three Envoys," page 2.)

Defeats Gunderson With Tory Support

Archie Gibbs has won the Oak Bay seat in the Legislature.

The Liberal candidate, reeve of Oak Bay since 1949, beat Social Credit Finance Minister Einar Gunderson when the third count of ballots in the June 9 election was completed late this afternoon.

Progressive Conservative second choice elected him. The final count: Gibbs, 4,108; Gunderson, 3,681.

Re-election of Liberal Reeve P. A. Gibbs was strongly indicated in Oak Bay this afternoon as he crept to within 26 votes of Social Credit Finance Minister Einar Gunderson at the end of second count and was reportedly receiving a large share of second choice Conservative votes.

In the only other definite change, Labor MLA Tom Uphill, 79, was re-elected in Fernie for the 10th consecutive time.

These were the latest developments in B.C.'s election picture as vote-counting resumed in 41 ridings (48 seats) after a three-week wait since the June 9 election day.

Reeve Gibbs cut Mr. Gunderson's 100-vote lead down to 26 votes at the end of the second count, which saw the Liberal candidate receive the largest share of CCF second choices.

After the CCF votes were transferred, the totals were: Social Credit, 3,373; Liberal, 3,347, and Tory Deane Finlayson, 1,261.

With half the polls counted in the transfer of Mr. Finlayson's votes, Mr. Gibbs is picking up nearly twice as many second choices as Mr. Gunderson.

His 2 to 1 edge has been consistent since the start of counting of Tory second choices.

There is very little plumping among PC voters.

In the transfer of CCF votes, Mr. Gibbs received 211; Mr. Gunderson, 166; Mr. Finlayson, 93.

Total of 203 of the 508 CCF voters plumped.

Mr. Uphill gained re-election on the second count. He will be starting his 33rd year in the Legislature.

He emerged victorious when transfer of second choices of Social William Panec gave him 192, and his nearest rival, Liberal Harry MacKay, 173.

Final second count figures: Uphill, 1,733; MacKay, 1,402.

First counts have been completed in four ridings, but they didn't change the picture materially.

BEST CHANCE

Premier W. A. C. Bennett's Social Credit party still appeared to have the best chance of forming a majority government.

The other second count completed was in Alberni, and it still left the result indecisive in the West Coast riding.

LPP candidate Frank Bottner was dropped from the contest, and his voters' second choices went mostly to the CCF. CCF'er John Squire picked up 53 of them, Liberal Mayor Loran K. Jordan 14, Social Thor Peterson 9, and PC Oliver Rutan 7. Total of 52 were exhausted.

The Liberals and Progressive Conservatives are trailing. None has been elected, and none is leading.

The counting teams' first job is to check the absentee vote and thus arrive at complete first count totals. Then, in many ridings, requested recounts of first choice votes must be carried out.

Then the second counts will be started by dropping the low candidates, and distributing their ballots according to their second choices.

SOCREDS LEAD Premier Bennett's party leads the pack with three members elected on the first count, and a fourth a certainty, and 26 leading.

The CCF has elected two and leads in 15. Labor leads in one.

The Liberals and Progressive Conservatives are trailing. None has been elected, and none is leading.

EDEN RESTS AT NEWPORT; CHURCHILL ENTERTAINS

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden and his wife settled on a private estate facing Newport Harbor today-hopeful of a quiet convalescence from his recent operation.

The 56-year-old British diplomat, appearing much healthier than on his arrival from England three and a half weeks ago, left the New England Baptist hospital in Boston Monday. He underwent an operation June 10 to clear a bile duct obstruction.

Dr. Richard Cartell, the diplomat's surgeon, said in a bulletin "we are convinced that after a full period of convalescence a complete recovery can be assured."

Meanwhile, London reported that Prime Minister Churchill, 78, resting on doctor's orders from the strain of overwork, was host at a small luncheon party again today at his estate at Chartwell, Kent.

Almost every day since last week-end, when he finally bowed to medical advice to take a month's rest, he has entertained at lunch or dinner. (See "Big Three Envoys," page 2.)
